

Vengeance Raid Leads Israelis Across Jordan

Orderly Withdrawal Follows Heavy Battle

TEL AVIV (AP) — An Israeli invasion force drove deep into Jordan along a 200-mile front today to avenge a series of guerrilla raids, then began a planned withdrawal once the "police action" to wipe out terrorist bases was accomplished, an army spokesman said.

The daylong fighting that began at dawn with helicopter drops of assault teams and followed with dozens of jet bomber strafing runs cost Israel 15 dead and 70 wounded, according to the spokesman.

The Israelis reported killing at least 150 El Fatah terrorists and said they had inflicted heavy casualties on the Jordanian army. They claimed destroying 15 tanks and capturing two.

Prime Minister Levi Eshkol, who watched much of the fighting from a command post overlooking the Jordan Valley, had said earlier that the troops would be pulled out "on schedule."

The withdrawal came after Britain and the United States called on Israel to pull back its forces, but informants here said it had nothing to do with these appeals and called the withdrawal a "planned phase of the operation."

At the height of the fighting, Israeli and Egyptian positions exchanged fire at Great Bitter Lake on the Suez Canal, but the clash was small and no casualties were reported in Tel Aviv.

Jordan's chief of military intelligence estimated up to 15,000 Israeli troops crossed the Jordan, including three armored brigades and their tanks. It was the first major Israeli move into Arab territory since the Middle East war in June.

A Tel Aviv spokesman said one Israeli jet had been downed by ground fire, but that the pilot had bailed out and was safe behind his own lines.

He denied a Jordanian claim that its forces had killed 200 of the invaders, destroyed 42 tanks and armored cars and shot down three of Israel's French-made Mystere jets.

"Our casualties are surprisingly low for this kind of engagement," he said.

Five New Offensives Set In Motion Against Reds

SAIGON (AP) — About 10,000 American troops have launched five new drives against the enemy up and down the country to regain the initiative after the lunar new year offensive, the U.S. Command disclosed today.

The command reported enemy losses at 799 dead against 94 U.S. soldiers killed and 397 wounded. Some operations were launched more than two months ago and the latest five days ago, but for security reasons an announcement was withheld.

These are in addition to the big U.S. and South Vietnamese Operation Quyet Thang—Resolve to Win—that has spread over five provinces close to Saigon. More than 1,000 of the enemy have been killed in this operation.

The purpose of all these operations is the same: to remove the enemy threat to critical areas and to regain the initiative lost to the Viet Cong and the North Vietnamese when they launched their biggest offensive of the war against 35 South Vietnamese cities Jan. 30.

The five new offensive thrusts are:

—Along the coastal Beng Son Plain, 300 miles northeast of Saigon, long threatened by the 22nd North Vietnamese Regiment. This operation was launched Feb. 29 by the U.S. 4th Infantry Division.

—North of the coastal provincial capital of Phan Thiet 100 miles east of Saigon. The Viet Cong overran Phan Thiet in the new year offensive. The 101st Airborne Division began this drive Jan. 20.

—Around An Khe, a big U.S. military base in the central highlands about 260 miles north of Saigon. The 173rd Airborne Brigade kicked off this operation Jan. 17.

—On the edge of the War Zone C near headquarters of the U.S. 1st Infantry and 101st Airborne divisions 29 miles northeast of Saigon. This operation was opened by the 101st five days ago.

—Near the Bien Hoa-Long Binh military complex housing headquarters of the U.S. Army in Vietnam 15 miles northeast of Saigon. This operation kicked off two weeks ago, with the 199th Light Infantry Brigade and the 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment taking part.

In a one-sided battle 15 miles northwest of Saigon, South Vietnamese and U.S. troops reported they killed 142 guerrillas Wednesday at a cost of one American and seven South Vietnamese killed.

Four miles southwest of the capital, South Vietnamese rangers said they killed 25 Viet Cong. Four rangers were wounded.

Musical to Replace S-C's Variety Show

Taking the place of the annual Variety and Style Show sponsored by the Smith-Cotton PTA this year, always-popular

"Oklahoma" will be presented by the music and drama students of Smith-Cotton High School, Friday and Saturday nights.

In colorful costumes of early days in Oklahoma talented youngsters sing the favorite songs of the musical by Rodgers and Hammerstein before a setting of Laurey's house, a house and red barn in the distance, the tall corn and a forest where white squirrels play in the trees, painted by the art class under the direction of Miss Gwendolyn Tuck, art instructor.

In act one the first scene is in front of Laurey's farmhouse; second scene, the smokehouse; third scene, a grave on Laurey's farm. Act II the first scene, the Skidmore Ranch; scene two Skidmore's kitchen porch; scene three, back of Laurey's farmhouse.

Some of the best parts of the show provide humor, grace and beauty, or typical cowboy rhythm pattern, according to who is dancing what, but whichever, each dance routine is clever and entertaining. The girl dancers are: Diana Goodier, Chris Chapman, Debbie Pelham, Terry Stevenson, Vicki Steurke, Cynthia Hopkins, Jane Banka, Jackie Reed, and Jane Herrick. The boy dancers, Steve Gray, Chuck Christal, Bob Hancock, Keith Owen, Warren Pruitt, Fred Nuzum and Don Stovall.

Friday night Terry Siron will assume the role of Curly, Harry Lambirth will play Will Parker, and Jebby Brown will play Ado Annie. Saturday night Larry Nuzum will play Curly, Dan Gwinn the part of Will Parker and Pam Mark will play Ado Annie. Other principal characters include Ginni Benitz as Aunt Eller, Nancy Gray as Laurey, David Nichols as Jud Fry and Mike Farley as Ali Hakim.

Accident Victim Transferred to KC

Frank L. Griffin, 47, Smithton, who was critically injured Wednesday morning in an automobile accident at the junction of Highways 50 and 135, was transferred to Veterans Hospital in Kansas City from the Bothwell Hospital early Thursday.

Griffin, who was reported in critical condition Thursday by the hospital, suffered a broken neck, lacerations, abrasions, and contusions.

Deep In Debris

This tractor, above, is literally up to its knees in debris. But before long the packed debris in the foreground will be under two to three feet of dirt. Scene is Sedalia's new land fill near Beaman. The gate is kept closed to prevent other than City trucks from using the fill. (Democrat-Capital photos.)

Jaycees Plan TV Show For Local Center

The Sedalia Junior Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a "TV Days" program on KMOS-TV from 4 to 6 p.m. Saturday featuring all local talent for the benefit of the Children's Therapy Center at Bothwell Hospital.

The program will feature the Smith-Cotton High School stage band, a triple trio from the junior high school, and various dancing, singing, and comedy routines.

Fred Davis, president of the Junior College and Bill Hopkins, president of the Junior College Board of Directors, will talk on the school and a representative from the Sedalia Boys Club will explain the club and its activities.

The commercials on the two-hour program will be done by members of the Jaycees.

City Exercises Tight Controls

Since Sedalia's new land fill was opened on a hilltop near Beaman amid considerable controversy, some complaints have been registered, but an examination of the premises shows everything possible is being done to keep the area neat and odorless.

This week a Democrat-Capital reporter, along with two City Councilmen, R. N. (Doc) Snaveley and Walter Jesse, and Street Superintendent Vernon Ditton, visited the new facility to see exactly how it is being operated.

The area is locked up. Ditton and the drivers of the eight garbage trucks hauling to the fill all have keys, and open the gates only when entering and leaving the area. Private vehicles are not allowed. There is a facility on Benton for the dumping of trash by private citizens.

Inside of the area two tractors keep busy covering some 110 cubic yards of trash hauled in daily. This trash at this time of the year consists of about 90 per cent paper. Ditton said during the summer months this percentage will vary somewhat.

The fill itself is some eight feet deep, with the layers of trash buried two to three feet underground. This layer process is followed until ground level is reached, then the trucks move on to another ditch.

Under new rules no burning is allowed. This has led to objections from residents of other areas where land fill operations have been conducted. Ditton said the trucks are now required to drive down the ditches to dump their loads instead of dumping the load off a ditch bank. This reduces the amount of debris that might be caught by the wind and blown away.

A representative from the Missouri Department of Health has been asked to visit the land fill and make any recommendations needed to improve the facility. He is due this week.

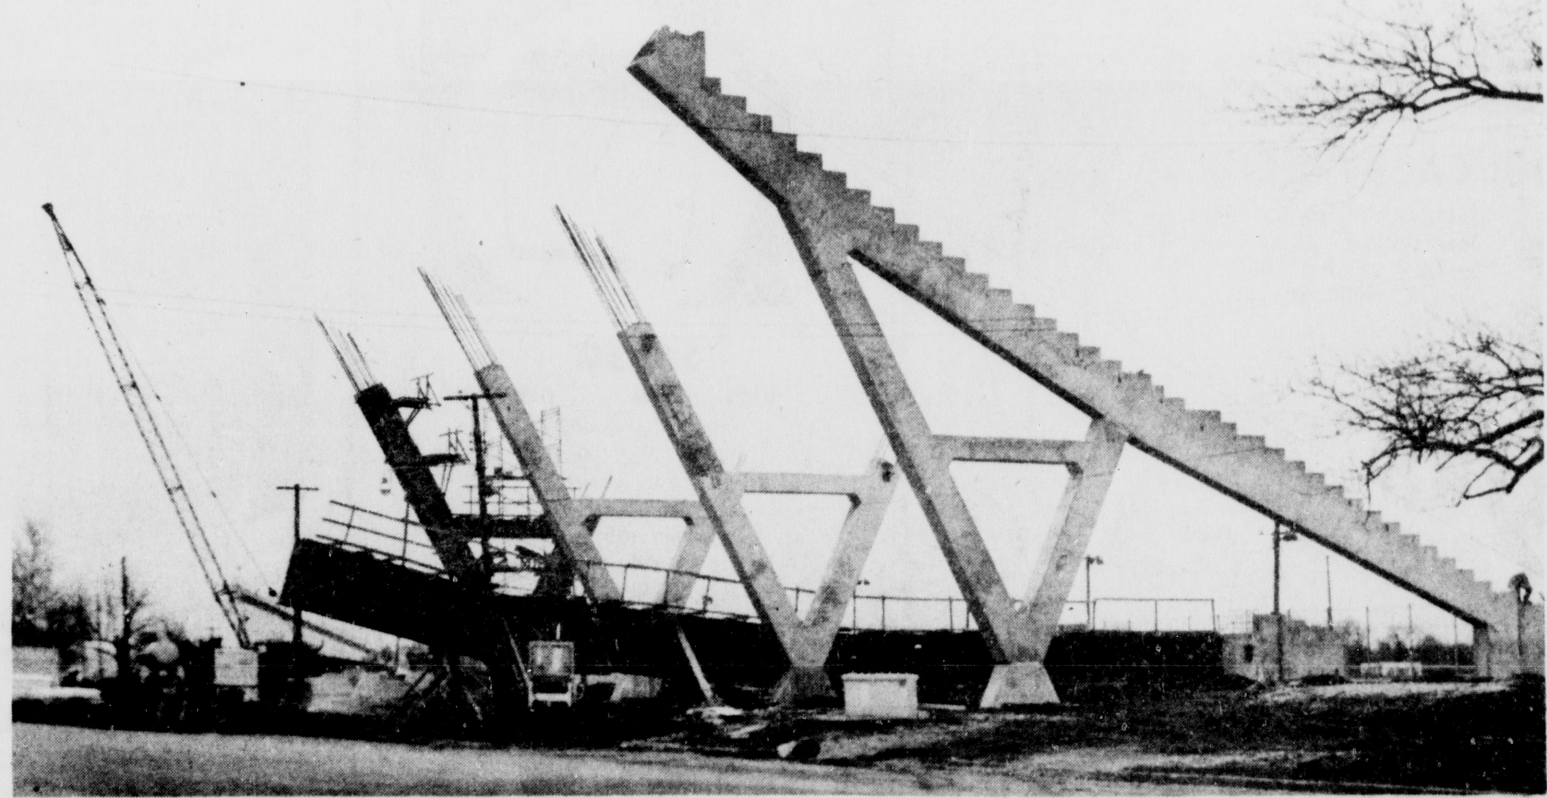

Ditton, Snaveley and Jesse all agreed that, "We are going to do everything possible to make this land fill one of the best in the state."

MSD Tag Day Drive Begins on Saturday

E. Glenn Lewis, president of the local chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Association, announced Wednesday that the local tag day drive will be held March 23, Saturday, to raise funds to provide seat belts for wheel chair victims.

Future nurses from Sacred Heart and Smith-Cotton will participate in the drive along with several Sedalia area Girl Scout troops.

A donation from the Chrysler Motor Co., made many seat belts possible but additional funds are still needed, according to the association.

98th Birthday Observed

98th Birthday

Mrs. Janie Middleton, widow of Frank Middleton, celebrated her 98th birthday Wednesday at the Fairview Nursing Home, at which time she received a birthday cake and several flowers from friends. She is shown Wednesday evening with Mrs. Zelma M. Allen, nurse's aid, at the nursing home. (Democrat-Capitol Photo.)

Wednesday, Mrs. Frank Middleton celebrated her 98th birthday anniversary at the Fairview Nursing Home where she has been living for the past two years. There were two decorated birthday cakes, one which had the message: "Happy Birthday, Janie." There were flowers, too, and cards, a whole basket full, and, of course, gifts, among them a pair of slippers and three pairs of hose, each pair with three stockings, a pair and a spare.

Mrs. Middleton, who was born Sarah Jane Woodward in the state of New York, March 20, 1870, came to Sedalia when she was a tiny girl with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Woodward. Her father was a carpenter and later a gardener.

So Janie grew up in Sedalia and as she looks back recalls the many changes that have taken place here through all those years. She was married to Frank Middleton who for many years operated the Middleton Storage here, and prior to that was an engineer for Swift and Co.

The family home was at 321 North Prospect where she lived until about four years ago. Mr. Middleton died in 1961. Although she had no children of her own, she had three stepchildren, Mr. Middleton's children by a former marriage, Don Middleton, Wichita, Kan., Howard Middleton of Kansas City, and the late Mrs. Helen Watkins.

A wee person, not even five feet tall, Mrs. Middleton is as fresh looking as a daisy. Her lovely fair skin has very few wrinkles to go with her age, and her snow-white hair is soft and curled about her face. She is very alert, walks well, her hearing is good, but she cannot see too read much anymore.

Never-the-less she is very cheerful and laughs easily.

She was all dressed up on her birthday in a red dress and wore little red slippers, but she didn't see any reason why such a fuss was being made over her birthday—after all, when you have had 98 birthdays they are really nothing new so she kept saying: "What's this all about?" But to her friends being 98 is quite an achievement, especially when one doesn't show her age.

Drug Sale Conviction Obtained

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — A two-day jury trial in Boone County Circuit Court ended in conviction Wednesday for James H. Rollins, 27, of St. Louis on a charge that he dispensed marijuana at a Columbia apartment house March 5, 1967.

Rollins, a former pre-law student at the University of Missouri, faces a five year prison term, fixed by the jury. He was expelled from the university.

Rollins denied the charge on the stand. He testified that the state's three principal witnesses were "trying to frame him" for refusing to help them arrange an illegal abortion.

One of the witnesses, Sharon Turner, testified under cross examination that she underwent an abortion.

Miss Turner, her boy friend, Larry Duncan, and Mary Louise Monsees were the state's witnesses. The 1 1/2 pounds of marijuana was found in Miss Monsees' apartment. Miss Turner's apartment was across the hall.

She and Duncan testified Rollins gave them the sack containing the marijuana to place in Miss Monsees' apartment. Duncan said he took a sample of its contents to police the next day and Miss Monsees' apartment was raided. Miss Monsees and Miss Turner also are former university students.

Rollins testified he did not go to the apartment, that he did not leave the marijuana, and that he had never seen or smoked marijuana. He has 40 days in which to request a new trial.

Counselor Addresses Optimists

Jack Larson, Jefferson City, state rehabilitation counselor for four counties, one of which is Pettis, was the speaker at the Noon Optimist Club Tuesday at State Fair Restaurant. He explained the opportunities for the disabled under the section of vocational rehabilitation, State Department of Education.

Attending the meeting was a man who has entered business through the program. He is Perry Crabb, who is in a wheelchair, but is now making his own way. Crabb's business is called Community Business Services. He does copying, lamination and mimeographing at 107 East Second.

Larson told of several case histories of handicapped persons who have been helped to become self-sufficient. He said that out of 170 persons referred to him last year in Pettis County, 65 have been provided with jobs.

He explained the wide range of vocational rehabilitation programs available to the handicapped. To qualify for assistance in finding employment, the applicant must be a Missouri resident, have a physical, mental or emotional disability which interferes with obtaining employment and have a reasonable chance of getting work with vocational rehabilitation help.

The speaker was introduced by Lewis Taylor, program chairman.

The meeting was presided over by Tom Delph in the absence of the president, Lee Deason. Wray Schroeder gave the invocation.

Dr. D. C. Payne was introduced as a guest by Ab Ball. Several members of the MARINE Pvt. Gary L. Pickens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Pickens of Route 2, Lincoln, has been graduated from eight weeks of recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot at San Diego, Calif.

Optimist Breakfast Club were also present.

The Oratorical Contest will be on April 2, and will be a night meeting at Flat Creek Inn.

Get Letter From Pueblo Crewmen

ALTA VISTA, Kan. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. William Woelk have received a letter from their son, a crewman aboard the USS Pueblo when she was captured by the North Koreans.

Woelk quotes his son as saying he was well and was being treated all right. Fireman apprentice Steven Eugene Woelk asked his parents not to worry about him.

The father said there was a picture in the letter. He declined to say whether the hand writing was his son's.

"I would rather not say anything more at this time," Woelk said. "We have turned the letter over to the Navy, and I think they will say whatever should be said about it."

The Pueblo was captured on Jan. 23.

Telephone Advances From Slavery to Man's Master

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — One of the ordeals of modern living is the telephone.
Like many scientific marvels, it started as a mechanical servant of man and now has managed to master and enslave him. It is getting more and more difficult to feel grateful to Alexander Graham Bell.
When your house is burning down, it is a great advantage to have a telephone in it so that you can summon help from the fire department.
Most of the time, however, your home isn't burning down, and then the telephone becomes more of a nuisance than a blessing.
There was a time in the American past when business was conducted in the office, social visits were arranged by mail, and the home was a sanctuary of real privacy.
All that has been destroyed by a simple and repetitive sound—"ring-a-ling-a-ling." That sound has made man a prisoner in his own castle.
It has turned his home into a market, an office, a political forum, a torture chamber where anyone in the world with sense enough to work a forefinger through a dialing system can grab him by the ear and pour a message into it.

British Bank Rate Reduced

LONDON (AP)—The British government cut the Bank rate today from 8 per cent to 7½ per cent in the wake of Britain's toughest peacetime budget since the 1930s.
The move by Prime Minister Harold Wilson's labor government is designed to make money more available for export production and investment in new plants and machinery.
The Bank rate governs interest rates throughout the sterling bloc. It has been 8 per cent since last Nov. 19, when it was hoisted from 7½ per cent in an increase associated with devaluation of the pound.
Announcing the reduction in the rate, the Bank of England cited the calming of the international monetary situation resulting from the Washington agreement to allow both free and official markets for gold and the strengthening of the pound as a result of the British budget made public Tuesday.
"In these circumstances," the bank said, "the reduction in the rate to 7½ per cent is appropriate both on international and domestic considerations."
The cut in the rate gave the pound an immediate boost. Sellers on the London foreign exchange market turned buyers, helping sterling up to $2.4035. It had earlier dipped to $2.4025 dollars from last night's closing at $2.4065.

Form Different Fire Brigade, Rescue Six

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Four firemen formed a different kind of bucket brigade Wednesday night and rescued six children from a burning house.
Capt. Ewald C. Moerschel, who was on the end of the line outside a window, reported four of the youngsters weren't breathing when they were handed to him. All six responded to treatment for smoke inhalation, however. None was burned. They range from one to six years old.
The youngsters are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Davis who were visiting neighbors when the fire broke out in their home at 4432 Michigan Avenue.
Capt. Moerschel said three of his men ran to the back of the house as soon as their hook and ladder truck arrived. They broke through a window and heard some moans.
"We couldn't see anything because of the smoke," said Carl Lawson. "Then we felt arms and legs stacked up in the small hallway that leads to the kitchen. I started handing children to Jimmie Richardson. He handed them to Chester Manley. Manley handed them to the captain outside."
Chief Earl Fanning said the fire apparently started when one of the children put a blanket on an electric heater.

Woman Patient Dies of Injuries

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A woman patient at Research Hospital was found on an overhang beneath a third floor room she occupied and died Wednesday night of injuries suffered in the apparent fall.
She was identified as Mrs. Opal Boles, 52. Police said her husband, Francis V. Boles, informed them his wife was being treated for bronchial asthma, and that she had been dependent.

Ding-a-ling-a-ling! "Friends of the Draft Friendly Hobe Hurley for Dogcatcher Campaign would like to solicit your vote. On international issues, Hobe feels we should stand steady on the price of gold and make up our mind right now either to stay in Vietnam or get out. On domestic issues, he stands four-square for—"
Ring-a-ling-a-ling! "Hi, Jack, honey. My husband took the 8 o'clock plane for Chicago, and I was feeling lonesome and thought that—Hello, hello. Why, you're not Jack. What are you doing on this phone?"
Ding-a-ling-a-ling! "Lady, do you have dishpan crinkles in your hands that make even your best friends pity you behind your back? We're introducing Scrammo, the new miracle soap powder, with the secret almond oil base which guarantees that—"
Ring-a-ling-a-ling! "Hi, there pardner! Grace and I and a few friends are taking a night off from the suburbs to tour the town. Would it put you out too much if, after the theater, we dropped by your place for a couple of belts before heading back home? We have to catch a 1:59 a.m. train, so we won't keep you up very late."
Bring-a-ling-a-ling! "I hate to bother you at home with something I know I should have brought up at the office but—Oh, you were taking a bath? Sorry. Well, go ahead and finish it. Take your time. I'll hang up now and call you back in three minutes."
Everybody hates to bother you at home, but everybody does. Brr-ing! Brr-ing! Brr-ing! By day and by night the metallic clangor sounds.
Many people today yearn to "get away from it all." If they ever do get away from it all, the last thing they'll get away from is the telephone.
Even then, stridently calling to bring them back, will be the familiar echo of "Brr-ing, brr-ing, brrrr-ing!"

Driver, Passenger Shot in Struggle

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A passenger that cab driver George Schertz picked up Wednesday pulled a gun on him and in a struggle both were shot and wounded.
Schertz, 49, was in fair condition at General Hospital with wounds in the left side and right arm. His unidentified 17-year-old rider was in poor condition at the hospital Wednesday night, shot in the chest and the left shoulder.
Police said Schertz told them he picked the youth up at Truman Road and The Paseo, and was told to drive to 21st Street and Flora Avenue.
When they got there, Schertz said, the boy drew a revolver and demanded money. Schertz reached for his gun under the dashboard and they exchanged shots.
The boy ran from the cab and disappeared as Schertz called his dispatcher on the radio for help. Police said the wounded youth later was accompanied to the hospital by an older brother.

Senate Defeats Ethics Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate defeated 44-40 Wednesday an amendment to the ethics resolution to require senators to report publicly each year the amount and source of their incomes and other financial information.
The vote by senators from this area included:
For the amendment — Democratic Sen. Symington of Missouri.
Against the amendment — Democratic Sens. Fulbright and McClellan of Arkansas and Monroney of Oklahoma, and Republican Sens. Carlson and Pearson of Kansas.

Kennedy Takes Campaign Into Alabama University

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy takes his presidential candidacy to the deep South's University of Alabama today where he oversaw racial integration in 1963 as attorney general.
Young Democrats at the Tuscaloosa campus were waiting with an endorsement they'd switched from Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy—and a resolution urging McCarthy to get out of the race.
Kennedy, the resolution said, "offers the country a more realistic and in many ways better, alternative to the present administration."

Losses in Trade

LONDON (AP) — The King's Head Hotel, a tenant of Queen Elizabeth II on the Great Birkham part of the royal estate, reports it has lost 80 per cent of its drive-in pub trade because motorists fear the roadside breath-testing in force since last October to catch drinking drivers. Nonroval pubs have suffered similarly, but the government says accidents are fewer than before.

Ban Is Removed

A federal force under the New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller makes his long-awaited announcement on whether he's a GOP presidential candidate, challenging Richard M. Nixon.

Political observers agreed he'd run at the eleventh hour but a top Rockefeller aide said, "There is still a deep division in our own ranks" on advisability of the governor's getting into the race.

McCarthy, meanwhile—with an array of Johnson administration officials campaigning against him in Wisconsin—said he'd like to see the President send his whole cabinet.
"I'd like to have them travel together," McCarthy said. "It would be good for the country to see them all."

Kennedy planned a stop at Vanderbilt University in Nashville, after his Alabama appearance, before a weekend of campaigning for California's 174 Democratic National Convention delegates.
He has scheduled appearances the length of California from Saturday through Monday night.
The administration officials backing Johnson in Wisconsin include Vice President Hubert Humphrey and McCarthy said he didn't think the vice president would hurt him.

"He might say something that would hurt," the Minnesota senator said. "But the last time he and I were in the state together campaigning was in 1960 when I was campaigning for him for president. I don't think he will hurt me very much."

Other administration officials scheduled to visit Wisconsin, with the primary nine days away, are Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman and Secretary of Housing and Urban Development Robert Weaver.

McCarthy said there is a strong chance his contest with Kennedy would get down to personalities because the two candidates agree on many issues.
The Minnesotan also said he was not sure he would enter the South Dakota primary where sources close to McCarthy say some of his supporters have defected to the Kennedy camp.
The senator said he was committed to doing what Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., who is running for re-election, wanted. He said McGovern does not want a party fight in the state.

OBITUARIES

Olevia DeJarnette

Mrs. Olevia DeJarnette, 63, 401 North Prospect, died at the Bothwell Hospital at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday. She had been a patient at the hospital since Feb. 5.

Mrs. DeJarnette was born near Mack's Creek, Mo., Sept. 10, 1904, the daughter of the late Thomas W. and Della Hart Griffith. She had lived most of her life in Sedalia, coming here in 1912. She attended the High Point and Horace Mann schools.

In January, 1920, she was married to John A. Detmer.

Mrs. DeJarnette was preceded in death by one son, three brothers and one sister.

She was married at Pueblo, Colo., Sept. 10, 1948, to Charles A. DeJarnette.

Mrs. DeJarnette was a member of the Broadway Presbyterian Church.

She is survived by her husband, Charles A. DeJarnette; one sister, Mrs. Mamie Cramer, 1711½ West 10th; four brothers, Othel Griffith, Smithton; Loren Griffith, 643 East 11th; Murrell Griffith, 32nd and Grand Avenue; Sterling Griffith, Route 1; one step-daughter, Mrs. Winifred Lewis, Phoenix, Ariz.; and one step-son, Charles DeJarnette, Jr., Syracuse.

Funeral services will be held at the Ewing Funeral Home at 2 p.m. Saturday with Dr. Garner Odell, pastor of Broadway Presbyterian Church, officiating.

Burial will be in Crown Hill Cemetery.

The body is at the Ewing Funeral Home.

The family prefers that contributions be made to the Cancer Fund instead of sending flowers.

Contracts Not For 12-Mile District

It was reported in the Wednesday Democrat and the Thursday Capital that the Pettis County Court had awarded contracts for maintenance and construction work for the Twelve Mile Road District. The contracts were awards for work on Pettis County roads only.

To Present "Oklahoma"

A cast of 65 enthusiastic Smith-Cotton High School students will present Rodgers' and Hammerstein's "Oklahoma" this Friday and Saturday nights at 8 p.m. in the Smith-Cotton auditorium. Directing the choral and instrumental selections with a special chorus of 29 students and an orchestra of 24 is Mrs. Geraldine Schrader. Mrs. Ellen Rodgers, S-C drama instructor, is supervising the dialogue portion of the musical with a select cast of 36, while Miss Joanie Baker, a senior at the University of Missouri at Kansas City, has been working with the dances. The costumes and props have been assembled by the Smith-Cotton Parent Teachers Association, and the background scenery consisting of Laurey's house, the barns, fields and woods were created by the S-C art classes of Miss Gwendolyn Tuck. In this production, music, drama, and comedy is combined to produce a memorable impression of human history. (Democrat-Capital Photo)

Accidents

No injuries were reported in a two-car accident at 16th and Ingram at 4:56 p.m. Wednesday.

Involved were a 1966 Dodge, driven north on Ingram by Karl R. Leiderman, 21, Moore Trailer Court, and a 1966 Pontiac, driven west on 16th by Linda Lou Curtis, 22, LaMonte.

Damage was to the front of the Pontiac and the right side of the Dodge.

Two persons complained of injuries as the result of a two-car accident at Sixth and Vermont at 3:31 p.m. Wednesday.

Involved were a 1965 Corvair, driven south on Vermont by Thomas J. Stohr, 19, 500 West Fourth, and a 1960 Plymouth, driven west on Sixth by Mark Ellis Green, Route 4.

Stohr complained of injuries to his right leg and ribs and sustained small cuts on his hands. He was taken to Bothwell Hospital in a private car, treated and released. Mary Green, a passenger in her husband's auto, complained of injuries to her head, but did not seek medical attention immediately.

Damage was to the left side of the Corvair and the front of the Plymouth.

Green was issued a police summons for careless and imprudent driving.

The 200 block of East 16th was the scene of a two-vehicle accident at 2:45 a.m. Wednesday.

Involved were a White semi-tractor-trailer unit, being backed into a private drive by Larry M. Godman, 26, Clinton, and a 1966 Ford, driven east on 16th by Benny K. Townsend, 21, Route 5.

Damage was to the left side of the Ford.

No injuries were reported in a one-car accident at the intersection of Boonville and Harding streets at 9:25 p.m. Tuesday.

According to the highway patrol, a 1960 Pontiac, driven north on Harding by Charles William Garrett, 37, Route 1, Smithton, ran through the intersection and struck a utility pole after the car's brakes apparently failed.

Trooper Sam Morris of the Highway Patrol investigated the accident.

A truck-car accident occurred at 8:39 a.m. Thursday in the 100 block of South Osage involving a truck driven by Richard Linebarger, Springdale, Ark., and a parked car owned by Walter C. Cramer, 109 East Second.

According to the police report the accident occurred as the truck was being backed up after it had been pulled out of an alley. As it was being backed up the bumper apparently struck the left rear side of the car.

The truck was damaged on the right front.

Three persons were injured in a two-car accident on Highway 65 about two tenths of a mile south of the junction of 65 and Route P at 4:40 p.m. Wednesday.

According to the Highway Patrol, a 1954 Chevrolet pickup truck, driven north on Highway 65 by Jewell Leonard Jackson, 64, 200 South Washington, collided with a 1968 Pontiac, driven south by Joe Rollins, 56, Owatonna, Minn. According to the patrol, the truck was apparently on the wrong side of the road and the two vehicles collided head on.

Jackson was taken to Bothwell Hospital where he was admitted. He sustained facial fractures, a rib fracture and a dislocated hip.

Rollins and his wife, Marjorie Rollins, were taken to Bothwell Hospital where they were given emergency treatment. Rollins sustained facial and chest fractures. His wife sustained a fractured jawbone and facial lacerations. They were transferred to Boone County Hospital in Columbia.

Trooper John M. Cummings of the Missouri State Highway Patrol investigated the accident.

Police Report

Darnell's Service Station, 1801 West Broadway, reported to Sedalia police at 8:20 p.m. Wednesday that a cash box valued at $7.50 and $12.50 in cash was stolen from a soda machine.

T. W. Gavert reported to police that the money box and money, estimated at $4, were taken from a pop machine at the Sedalia Motel sometime over the weekend. According to police, the thieves apparently used a key to gain entrance to the pop machine, as the machine was locked when the theft was discovered Wednesday.

Gary Cooper, 1001 State Fair, reported to police that vandals broke the radio antenna on his car sometime last Thursday or Friday night while it was parked at the above address.

C. L. Norman, 1507 East Ninth, reported to police that someone took a concrete statue, valued at $28.50, from the above address sometime Tuesday night or Wednesday.

Magistrate Court

The preliminary hearing for James Fischer, charged in a state complaint with second degree burglary in connection with the alleged burglary of the Lloyd Arnett farm, March 7, 1967, was set Wednesday for Monday by Magistrate Judge Frank Armstrong.

Fischer was released on a continued bond of $2,500.

Sheriff's Report

Tommy Oliver, 17, 1109 East 10th, was placed in the Pettis County jail, about 8 p.m. Wednesday night for investigation of parole violation and being intoxicated on jail property. Oliver is under parole on a two-year sentence for arson since February 21, this year.

Sheriff Emmett Fairfax reported Oliver, who apparently had been drinking, was noticed climbing over a back fence at the jail by Mrs. Virgil Morris, wife of Deputy Sheriff Virgil Morris, the jailer. He said Mrs. Morris notified her husband, who went out through the kitchen, circled the jail and found Oliver next to the building, inside the fenced jail compound. Oliver was first noticed from an upstairs window. Morris called to Oliver and when he started to try and run east and climb a fence, fired one shot in the air, Fairfax reported.

Oliver stopped and was taken inside the county jail.

In the meantime, a call to the police by a business man nearby summoned Lt. Jewell Riley and Deputy Sheriff Orval Lewis who were at police headquarters. They went to the jail to investigate. The caller had thought someone had been shot when he heard the report of the gun.

In February, Oliver was sentenced to two years in prison for arson and immediately placed on parole, according to Sheriff Fairfax.

T & C Bond Issue Is Explained

The Town and Country Shoes, Inc., industrial bond issue, to be voted on at the election April 2, was discussed at the Sedalia Lions Club, Wednesday noon, by William H. Hall, director of the Sedalia Industrial Development Department, and Norman E. Lewis, vice-president of an investment banking firm in Kansas City.

Hall explained in detail the benefits of the $1,050,000 bond issue. "The fact is the whole project can be done without any increase in taxes and this, in itself, benefits the whole community," Hall explained. During this discussion Hall also mentioned some people were under a false impression that a mill tax was to be voted in connection with this issue. He said this "is not true. The mill tax is for the Sedalia Public Library and is not connected with the Industrial Bond issue."

The expansion program, according to Hall, is due to the fact the present facility is extremely crowded with material and people and is spread to three different locations, although close to each other. This new expansion will make it possible for the entire manufacturing operation to be placed under one roof in a modern, air-conditioned building, making working conditions more comfortable for better production. The present 400 personnel would move to the new location where they will be joined by 100 or more Sedalia workers who will be needed under this expansion plan.

"The people here seem to be the highest caliber of production workers and take great pride in the shoes they produce. We would rather expand facilities here than go some place else and look for an entirely new labor force," Hall quoted Town and Country officials.

Perry, Adams and Lewis Inc., investment bankers, will handle the bond issue, Lewis told the Lions. He went to great lengths to explain the procedures of handling the bonds.

Hall, who was also program chairman, introduced Lewis when he spoke.

George Arquitt, manager of the Wilson Clothing Store, was introduced as a new member of the Club.

Vice-President Don Buller, presided over the meeting.

Old Dam
Section
Collapses

TAUNTON, Mass. (AP) — The center section of a 70-year-old wooden dam across the flood-swollen Mill River collapsed today, and officials feared a dam further down stream might also give way.

There were no immediate reports of damage or injuries, but officials said the heaviest damage might occur as the river crested.

A 36-foot section of the 125-foot-wide Whittenton Mill Dam — about two miles north of the business district — gave way with a roar as tons of water cascaded down stream.

An official at the scene quoted U.S. Army Engineers as saying there were some 50,000 tons of water pressure against the old dam.

The dam was one of three across the river between Sabbatia Lake and the Taunton River.

Civil Defense Director Otis Haskill said the "real heavy swell" of water was not expected to hit the Reed & Barton dam down river for several hours.

If that dam holds, Haskill said, "it will save us a lot. If not..."

The Mill River runs through the downtown, industrial and residential areas of the city of 40,000 some 30 miles southeast of Boston.

Where the river runs through the downtown section it's bed is about 20 feet wide.

A witness said the 12-to-20-foot timbers that shored up the bridge rocked with the force of the current. The river cresting after two days of torrential rains was reported rising between one-half and two inches an hour.

Mayor Benjamin A. Friedman ordered the evacuation of more than a hundred families from a four mile square area late Wednesday night.

About 200 persons—including 80 to 90 children—took refuge in public school buildings opened to the evacuees.

Mrs. Gladys McIsaac, a school committee member assisting the evacuees, said that number "wouldn't begin to cover the total number of people who have left their homes."

Many stayed with relatives or friends, she said.

Parts of southeastern Massachusetts and Rhode Island were declared disaster areas. Flash floods caused damage estimated at $50 million.

The storm poured as much as eight inches of rain in some areas, and winds gusted up to 40 miles an hour. In Massachusetts, conservation officials said the flooding was the worst since 1886.

The water filled thousands of basements, closed major traffic arteries and swirled huge holes in other roads.

General Predicted
Tet Drive

NEW YORK (AP) — A month before the disruptive Communist Tet offensive, Gen. William C. Westmoreland predicted great allied headway during 1968 in military and pacification programs in Viet Nam, the New York Times reported from Washington today.

The Times, quoting excerpts from a classified year-end report Westmoreland made to Washington Jan. 1, said the U.S. commander in Vietnam asserted that "the enemy did not win a major battle in Vietnam in 1967" and declared: "We should expect our gains of 1967 to be increased manifold in 1968."

The report reflected the view Westmoreland expressed on his visit to the United States last November, said the Times, namely that allied military pressure was forcing the enemy away from South Vietnam's population centers. In the Tet lunar new year offensive, the Viet Cong wreaked havoc in 35 population centers including Saigon.

Other discrepancies pointed out by the Times between Westmoreland's predictions and the outlook after the Tet offensive were these:

—The general said the enemy's recruiting in South Vietnam would fall off. But intelligence analysts now say the enemy's recruiting drive picked up steam in the latter half of 1967 and he has now replaced most soldiers lost in the urban offensive.

—The general predicted combat this year would create about 340,000 new refugees. The Tet offensive alone resulted in about 350,000.

—He said the pacification program was expected "to gain considerable headway in the next six months." But the Tet offensive has profoundly disrupted that program.

Load Too Great

A bridge built in 1915 near Somerset, Kan., collapsed under the weight of a truck carrying a power shovel. The shovel can be seen on its side as workmen ready a crane on the

Students
In Control
Of School

WASHINGTON (AP) — Singing and chanting students nearly 1,000 strong have taken over and shut down Howard University in a nonviolent coup, with a spokesman vowing: "We're here for the duration."

The students jammed all four floors of the predominantly Negro university's administration building overnight while others milled outside.

They sang, danced, joined in hand-clap punctuated chants, made speeches and joked in what looked more like a festival than an insurrection.

But the siege took on a more militant tone in a statement issued just after midnight today by students manning the university switchboard.

"There's no telling what might happen whenever the administration gets tired," said Robert Malson, 24. "If they come to recapture the building we can expect some of us will get hurt. But we hope it won't happen."

"When they come we're just going to stay here," said Malson, an economics major. "We're going to stay until our demands are met."

The administration closed the university indefinitely Wednesday and ordered all campus buildings except the student-filled administration building locked.

The demonstration began Tuesday as a sit-in demanding exoneration of 37 students charged with disrupting March 1 Charter Day ceremonies on the campus.

Brown said the protest might end if the charges are dropped.

But emphasis at a student news conference Wednesday was on lack of Negro history and culture courses at the university.

An administration spokesman said there were no plans to call in police but said "appropriate legal action to restore operations" was being sought. It was understood charges including disorderly conduct and unlawful entry against the protesters were being considered.

Really Suspended

Dock Strike Work Order Is Issued

NEW YORK (AP) — The head of the longshoremen's union has said he would instruct his men to obey a judge's order to end their work stoppage that has crippled most of the Port of New York since Monday.

But Thomas W. Gleason, president of the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association (ILA), said he learned of the order too late to get the entire work force back on the docks at the regular starting time today.

The back-to-work order was issued Wednesday by Justice Arthur Markewich of the State Supreme Court, New York's third highest tribunal.

The Port of New York longshoremen's hiring practice battle with the Waterfront Commission led to a Maine-to-Virginia sympathy dock work stoppage Wednesday.

The ILA had called for the coastal stoppage to last from 8 a.m. to noon, but local complications made it all-day stoppages in Boston and Philadelphia.

An estimated 40,000 men were idle and waterfront sources estimated that loading and unloading of 150 ships—71 of them in the port of New York—were halted.

The stoppage was called as part of the ILA campaign to force the Waterfront Commission, a New York State-New Jersey agency, to abandon its plans to recruit 750 new men to work on automated piers at Port Newark and Port Elizabeth in New Jersey.

Takes Aim
At Milder
Proposal

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, who helped defeat a plan to make senators publicly bare all their financial affairs, has taken aim at a far milder financial-disclosure proposal.

The Senate, following sometimes heated debate, voted 44 to 40 Wednesday against the full-disclosure plan sponsored by Sens. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., and Clifford P. Case, R-N.J.

Among those voting for the plan was Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., censured by the Senate last year for alleged financial misconduct.

Senate leaders said that with the controversial Clark-Case proposal disposed of, they hoped for faster action today on other amendments to the financial disclosure plan drafted by the Senate ethics committee.

Dirksen said he alone plans 18 to 20 amendments, including proposals for limiting and restricting the financial-disclosure section of the committee draft.

The committee has suggested that senators and top Senate employees be required to make annual public reports of contributions and fees exceeding $300 for speeches, writings and similar activities. They also would have to file with the Senate complete details of their financial affairs—such as total income, holdings and liabilities—but this information would be sealed. It would be opened only by the ethics committee during the course of any probe into a senator's conduct.

The Clark-Case proposal would have required that all this be made public—and that the spouses and minor children of senators also be required to file such information.

Dirksen said a senator might have a tough time getting such information from his wife.

As for Mrs. Dirksen, he said, "I don't know what she has or how she got it."

Fallas Are Burned

VALENCIA, Spain (AP) — Fallas valued at about $428,500 went up in smoke this week, climaxing a three-day celebration in honor of St. Joseph, patron saint of Valencia. Fallas—there were 194 this year—are wood and wax figures mocking popular customs. They are placed in the main squares and burned amid fireworks, with thousands of Spanish and foreign visitors watching.

Earl Gerke Captures All-State Laurels

By D. Kelly Scruton
Sports Editor

Earl Otto Gerke, a 17-year-old, all-around athlete at Sacred Heart High School, was the only area selection on the Missouri Sportswriters and Sportscasters Association All-Star first squad. Gerke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Gerke, 201 East Tower, was one of the high vote getters for the Class S squad.

Four area boys received first squad votes but eventually were named as Honorable Mention. They were Lanny Terry, Warsaw, Kent Sullins, California, and David Bixler, Tipton, in Class M, while Don Brandsgaard, of Lincoln, was named on the Class S Honorable Mention squad.

Gerke, who attended Smithton public school two and a half years and transferred to Sacred Heart elementary school, will graduate this spring from the high school. In the eighth grade he was Captain of the Patrol Boys; he was President of his Sophomore Class; Vice-President of the Student Council in his Junior year; Senior Class President this year. He has shown outstanding leadership throughout his high school education.

His athletic activities included track, in which he won a cross-country patch in 1965; "B" team cross country patch in 1966; "B" team basketball patch in 1965-66; lettered in basketball 1966-67. In 1967 he attended the Bob Vanatta Basketball Camp during which he won four awards for participation, hustle, and rebounds, placing second in free throw accuracy with 20 out of a possible 25.

Because of his ability to get along with fellow teammates, Coach Jim Gladback named him the captain of the team for 1967-68. Results of the past season were, rewarding to the Sacred Heart Gremlins, in spite of the fact they barely missed the Pettis-Benton County Activities Association Conference title. They did advance through the Class S Regionals at Smithton and to the District where St. George of Hermann defeated them at Eugene.

Gerke joins several other former Gremlins who were successful in being chosen for All-State honors in the past, an honor for their school and Coach Gladback.

Turbine Racer

The first of a new wave of turbine-powered race cars, expected by many to cause a minor revolution in racing, got its baptism at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. In the cockpit is Bruce McLaren, listening to some advice from Denis Hulme, who was clocked at 158.7 miles an hour in a shakedown cruise around the 2.5-mile track, a relatively slow time. Both men are Grand Prix drivers. The car, still in primer paint, is one of three built by Carroll Shelby and Ken Wallis, both racing veterans. (UPI)

Twins Wasting No Effort In Bid for 1968 Pennant

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — When Minnesota acquired John Roseboro, Ron Perranoski and Bob Miller from the Los Angeles Dodgers, it was obvious that the Twins were shooting the works for the 1968 pennant.

In the trade, Minnesota dealt off shortstop Zoilo Versalles and pitcher Mudcat Grant, both instrumental when the Twins won the American League pennant in 1966.

A hitting catcher and bullpen help for 34-year-old Al Worthington had been high on the shopping list of owner Calvin Griffith after the Twins blew a one-game lead with two to go at Fenway Park last October.

"We feel we strengthened two positions," said Cal Ermer, the manager who replaced Sam Mele last June 9. "I feel that Versalles will come back and have a good year with the Dodgers but we helped ourselves with a regular catcher to play every day and two good experienced hands in the bullpen."

"I am very optimistic about our chances. We had a fantastic race last year but it might be even better this time. I can't see any one club breaking it wide open. We might go into late August or September with six or seven clubs still in it."

Before you rush out to order World Series tickets for Metropolitan Stadium, heed the caution flag. The Twins do not have a regular shortstop. Third base is a question mark. Jim Kaat's tender left elbow still is causing concern.

Every time Ermer talks about one of the questionable spots on the Twins he says, "Well, Tovar can play it." The versatility of Cesar Tovar, who drew the only vote for Most Valuable Player honors that Carl Yastrzemski didn't get, is all-important to the Twins.

At the moment it appears that Tovar may have to play shortstop because Jack Hernandez, the fine fielding shortstop from the California Angels' organization, isn't hitting. Rick Renick, another prospect has been handicapped by minor injuries.

If Hernandez finally wins the job, vacated by Versalles, Tovar may wind up at third base where weak-hitting Ron Clark is holding forth until Rich Rollins completely recovers from surgery on his right knee. Rollins finally made his first appearance Sunday as a pinch hitter.

Another potential job for handyman Tovar is center field. The incumbent Ted Uhlaender normally gets off slowly and then comes on like gangbusters. Harmon Killebrew has settled down comfortably at first base. Rod Carew, the Rookie of the Year in 1967, is set at second. Bob Allison's fine comeback mark in three seasons, averaged 21.3 this season as team had four players in double figures for a 28-4 mark, scored 1625 for 89 straight games as a starter for an 18.2 average, rated as best player in Northwest Missouri since 1960.

BRUCE HOLLOWAY, Poplar Bluff, 5-8 senior, great playmaker for Poplar Bluff's fine 19-6 club, perhaps the best little man in state, started 75 straight games for the Bluffs and averaged 12 points a game.

DAVE RICHARDS, Springfield Hillcrest, 6-5 senior, 20-8 scorer this year, including 23 against Bradleyville, had 35 at Neosho in regular season game and 37 in a 3-overtime win from Poplar Bluff, 80-72, hit over 20 13 times, fine rebounder and a top college prospect.

ERIC THOMPSON, Helias of Jefferson City, 6-4 junior, perhaps the school's best big man ever, great scorer, averaged 23 points and 15 rebounds for a team that was very common without him, they finished 12-10. He hit in the 30's on four occasions and over 20 in 15 games, broke school mark for rebounding with 308 caroms, including 26 in a single game, great outcourt shooter, hit 51 percent from field, shooting from 30 feet and in, good ball handler and assist man, was third on team with 33.

GLEN ROHN, Normandy, 6-2 senior, leader for club that lost only four times, scored 22 points a game, despite being forced to play against men much bigger from pivot position, good ball handler capable of playing outside in college.

JACK THOMAS, DeAndreis, 6-3 senior, top-flight performer and 22 point scorer for club which was 20-5.

JOHN KAFKA, Rockhurst, 6-3 senior, team leader and 17.5 scorer for Kansas City club which finished 17-6, strong rebounder and good shooter.

Schools Turning To Track

With the basketball season in the record books, the high school sports spotlight turns to track with the 36th Annual State High School Indoor Track and Field Meets beginning tomorrow at the University of Missouri's Brewer Fieldhouse. Class S and M schools will compete for state honors Friday afternoon and evening with Class L competition scheduled for Saturday. Schools with enrollments under 185 in the upper four grades will be in Class S; schools with enrollments from 186 through 600, Class M; and 601 and above, Class L.

Athletes who will be competing in the state meets have qualified on the basis of their performances at one of 37 area meets recently held at different sites across the state.

The 1967 state meet was highlighted with many outstanding performances as numerous class records were broken. Class L and M each had six new records broken and one record tied, while Class S had two new records set.

Lockwood, Brentwood, and Kansas City Central, last year's team winners in Class S, M, and L, respectively will be returning to defend their crowns. All three are again expected to field strong teams.

Preliminaries in Classes M and S will begin at 12:00 noon. March 22, with the finals starting 6:00 p.m. Class L preliminaries begin at 10:00 a.m. March 23, with the finals at 2:00 in the afternoon.

All-Time Record In Attendance

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

Big Eight basketball attendance set an all-time record of 6,936 a game for 89 home games this season, with increases at all eight schools and new records at Kansas and Nebraska.

Spiced by the hottest title race since 1950, the average climbed 25 a game above the former record of 6,911 for each of 70 games in 1957—Wilt Chamberlain's first season at Kansas.

The biggest increase of 912 a game came at Missouri in Norm Stewart's first year as head coach. The Tigers drew 45,400 for 11 home games, an average of 4,127 and best at Mizzou since the 46,886 total for 11 games in 1956, a 2.62 average, in Stewart's last year as a player.

Missouri's record average is 4,686 for nine games in 1955.

Nebraska had the next largest gain, 664 per game to a school record of 7,234 a game, almost 400 above the old school mark in 1966.

Kansas drew 163,000 for 12 home games, an average of 13,583 compared to last year's 13,212 which led the nation. Other national figures aren't available as yet, but the Kansas averages this year and last rank 2-3 in Jayhawk history behind the 15,500 average for 10 games in 1957.

Kansas State was second with an 11,400 average, up 173 over last year's total which was fifth nationally. K-State has led the league 13 times in 18 years since Ahearn Fieldhouse was built.

Iowa State averaged 6,791, up 291 a game; Colorado 5,164, up 179; Oklahoma State 3,875, up 255; and Oklahoma 3,011, up 281.

Total attendance of 617,260 also was a record, breaking the 558,253 for three fewer games last season.

Hers Is a Short Cut For Sewing a Garment

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—My Pointer is a great help for sewing the various parts of a hand-knitted garment together without having to first block each piece. As I finish one piece, such as the back, front, a sleeve, etc., I wind it loosely onto an empty tube, such as comes from waxed paper. Do this in the opposite direction from the way the edges want to curl and keep it flat by securing the edges with an elastic band. When I am ready to put the sweater together I remove all pieces from the rollers and find they lay flat and even just as though they had been blocked. After sewing together I do not feel it is necessary to block sweaters because they look as if it had already been done.—ELEANOR

DEAR GIRLS—I think Eleanor has a superduper Pointer about rolling these knitted pieces but there may be varying opinions as to the necessity of blocking after the garment is all sewn together. A bit of blocking adds greatly to the professional look.—POLLY

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—I have a sheet of foam rubber that I would like to shred so I can use it to stuff pillows, but how does one shred it?—SARAH

DEAR POLLY—Lengths of old garden hose, laid side by side, and tied together make an excellent kneeling pad for outdoor gardening use. It saves pain and makes gardening easier.—EILEEN

DEAR POLLY—I wish to tell Joan K. that marks left by gummed tape she has used to hold paper on her enameled kitchen shelves can be removed by applying rubbing alcohol with pieces of cotton.—INEZ

DEAR POLLY—Joan K. can remove the marks left by gummed tape on her cupboard shelves by rubbing the areas lightly with a soft cloth dampened with spot-remover cleaning fluid.—MRS. A. S. D.

DEAR GIRLS—Angie also used rubbing alcohol for this but has now changed to the use of masking tape, which she finds leaves no marks on the shelves after it is removed.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—When going on a picnic and you do not have the right container for potato salad or any other such food, use an empty plastic milk carton. Spread the top wide to fill, then staple it together and you have an inexpensive, waterproof container as well as one that can be thrown away and not have to be carried home.—MRS. G. P. D.

Quarterhorse Show Here This Weekend

Tops in Quarterhorse Shows is being brought to the Missouri State Fair Grounds this weekend in the large coliseum. The show opens at 8 a.m. Saturday and runs throughout the day and is open to the public.

The Northeast Kansas Quarterhorse Association is sponsoring the two-day event which is being moved to Sedalia from Kansas City where it was held in the American Royal Building for the past several years. It is an official registered Quarterhorse show and rated among the top ten of the nation, which rating it has held for the past eight years.

With the opening Saturday morning the halter class competition will be held for a complete showing of stallion, mares and geldings.

The 20 performance classes will include Western Pleasure, Reining, Western Riding, Barrel race, Calf roping, team roping. There will be nine Youth Classes for entries 18-years and under.

In 1967 the show in Kansas City drew competitors from 20 States from Coast-to-Coast and from Canada to Mexico.

One of the big competition classes will be that of Cutting which starts at 8 a.m. Sunday and continues until completed. The Class has run as high as 180 entries.

C. J. Hamilton, secretary of the Association, from Liberty, Mo., reports entries already received indicate exceptionally large classes again this year. For those interested in the Quarterhorse program and desiring information regarding the competition or the Quarterhorse breed, the Association office will be opened.

Hamilton also said this year's show will accept post entries to encourage area owners to compete. Reason for the move from the American Royal he explained is due to the Ice Hockey at the Royal building which dates are conflicting.

"We are most happy and encouraged over the reception we have received in Sedalia from the Missouri State Fair officials as well as local people," Hamilton explained.

That set the stage for a possible showdown later with 119-pound champion Earl Large of Roswell, N.M., a decision winner over John Williams of Kansas City.

John North of Cincinnati, 118-pound champ in 1966, scored two impressive decision victories in the 125-pound class.

In the night's big surprise, defending 139-pound champ Willie Richardson of Detroit was the victim of a one-punch technical knockout. He fell to unheralded James Ham of Charlotte, N.C. in just 57 seconds.

In his second victory of the night, Ham scored a split decision over Eddie Beauford of Buffalo, N.Y.

Several fighters scored double victories, but not all first-round winners fought twice. Some drew byes.

Time Runs Out For Toronto

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Time finally has run out on Punch Imlach's Toronto Maple Leafs.

The National Hockey League's Stanley Cup champions last year, the Leafs were eliminated from 1968's post-season playoffs Wednesday when they dropped a 3-2 decision to the Montreal Canadiens.

In other games, New York grabbed sole possession of second place in the East with a 5-3 victory over Chicago, Pittsburgh picked up valuable ground in the West by knocking off St. Louis 4-2, Philadelphia turned back Oakland 5-1 and Los Angeles and Minnesota played a 3-3 tie.

"We did the best we could, and it wasn't good enough," sighed Imlach, who had piloted the Leafs to 10 straight playoff berths before this season. "That's all there was to it."

Toronto had a precedent for their flop following the Cup victory. In 1944-45, the Leafs captured the Cup and then finished fifth the next season.

Bobby Rousseau sealed the Leafs' doom with a pair of first period goals that forced Toronto to play catch-up hockey and the Leafs never quite caught up.

With only six games remaining, Toronto's maximum possible point total is 78—one less than fourth-place Chicago already has achieved. Only four teams in each division qualify for the playoffs.

Bob Nevin scored three times—twice in the final 4½ minutes—as the Rangers opened a two-point gap over idle Boston and a three-point lead over Chicago in the battle for second place in the East.

The Black Hawks, who out-shot New York 51-34, had wiped out a 3-1 New York lead with third-period goals by Stan Mikita and Doug Mohns. But 21 seconds after Mohns scored, Nevin hit for a 4-3 Ranger lead.

Then Nevin's third goal of the night and 27th of the season wrapped it up.

Goalie Ed Giacomin was brilliant in the Ranger nets, stopping 20 Chicago shots in the first period as goals by Nevin and Orland Kurtenbach got New York off to a 2-0 lead.

Pittsburgh, battling to gain a playoff spot in the West, moved within five points of fourth place by knocking off St. Louis.

The Penguins snapped a 1-1 tie in the third period when Noel Price and Gene Ubriaco clicked 62 seconds apart. Then, after Jim Roberts cut the lead to one goal and St. Louis pulled Glenn Hall for an extra attacker in the final minute, Ken Schinkel hit the empty net for the clincher.

Philadelphia handed Oakland its 10th straight setback while the West Division leaders opened up a four-point lead over Los Angeles. Bill Sutherland, Forbes Kennedy, John Miszuk, Andre Lacroix and Don Blackburn scored for the Flyers while Charlie Burns produced the Seals' lone goal.

Andre Boudrias' goal with 58 seconds remaining enabled Minnesota to deadlock Los Angeles after the Kings had built a 3-1 lead after two periods.

Calgary Comes Up With 10-6 Victory
MONTREAL (AP) — Calgary, skipped by Ron Northcott, overcame a 3-0 deficit and gave Canada a 10-6 victory over the United States in the second round of the International Curling Championship Wednesday night. The victory tied Canada with Scotland for first place in the eight-rink round-robin tournament.

In an afternoon match, the U.S. rink from Superior, Wis., skipped by Bud Somerville, had trounced Norway 18-7.

Named Head Coach
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Vince Chierella was named head basketball coach at Capital University Wednesday. He had been coach at Columbus Linden McKinley High School.

Astros Are Content With Team

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bo and Jo are the talk of the baseball world these days but the Houston Astros are perfectly happy with Don and Tom, thank you.

While playboy Bo Belinsky and Playboy's Jo Collins were announcing plans to get married, right-handers Don Wilson and Tom Griffin were combining to pitch a one-hitter as the Astros edged Detroit 2-1 Wednesday in an exhibition baseball game.

There were other interesting developments on the baseball front.

Willie Mays had two teeth yanked by a dentist and Boston pitcher Dave Morehead almost lost a couple when he ran into a wall during a volley ball game.

There was some baseball played, too. Phil Linz and Ed Charles, who aren't even on the roster, sparked the New York Mets to a 5-1 triumph over Baltimore. Oakland's Sal Bando continued his spring slugging, cracking his sixth homer as the Athletics clubbed Cincinnati 6-2.

Mickey Mantle belted homer No. 1, starting the New York Yankees to a 9-1 victory over the minor league Mexico City Red Devils in the Mexican capital.

Dick Ellsworth became the first Boston hurler to work seven innings, checking his former Philadelphia teammates on one run and seven hits in a 6-1 Red Sox victory.

Orlando Cepeda's 10th inning single scored the winning run as St. Louis overcame eight errors and edged Los Angeles 9-8. Willie Stargell's sacrifice fly drove in the decisive run as Pittsburgh shaded the Chicago White Sox 2-1.

Three runs in the eighth inning enabled California to overcome Cleveland 9-7 despite five hits by the losers' Max Alvis. The Chicago Cubs collected 17 hits and buried San Francisco 10-4.

Atlanta bombed Minnesota's Dave Boswell for 13 hits in 3 1-3 innings and nipped the Twins 8-6. Sandy Valdespino, sold by the Twins to the Braves last fall, socked a three-run homer.

The only hit allowed by Houston's Wilson-Griffin combine was a homer by Detroit's Al Kaline. It came off Wilson, who went five innings, fanning five.

Wilson, who pitched a no-hitter last season, is expected to be one of Houston's pitching mainstays. But Griffin, a 20-year-old rookie, had only a 3-9 record last season with two minor league clubs.

While Griffin was making his pitch for a major league job, Belinsky, who is on the roster of Houston's Oklahoma City farm team, left his baseball future in doubt.

The fun-loving southpaw said he and Miss Collins, a 39-24-38 beauty once tabbed as Playboy's "Playmate of the Year," would be married in about four months, when her pending divorce becomes final.

"This is true love," said Belinsky, who has kept company with such entertainment notables as Mamie Van Doren, Tina Louise and Kay Stevens.

Belinsky left the Houston camp earlier in the week after being denied permission to stay out past curfew on a date with Miss Collins. He said if the Astros assign him to the minors he'll quit baseball and move to Hawaii, where he and Miss Collins will run "a swinging dude ranch."

"I'm in love," he said, "and from not on it's Bo and Jo."

KC Expansion Team Allowed To Take Part
KANSAS CITY (AP) — The 1969 Kansas City expansion baseball club got a go-ahead to participate in the June player drafts and executive vice president Cedric Tallis said his front office is ready.

"This means that we can go ahead and acquire our Class A clubs," Tallis said. "We're not waiting around with our hats in our hands for someone else to help us."

"Now we can go ahead and select contracts in the June draft, sign players and start our flow of talent so we won't lose one or two years. This is a very encouraging sign, and we appreciate the consideration."

The decision was reached by the major leagues executive committee in Miami Wednesday. Tallis indicated the club's immediate task would be to add some more scouts to its staff, sign 60 to 80 players and set up farm clubs this summer.

"We will scout teams in the American League again and again, then we will check the minors," he said. "We need intelligent information for the expansion draft Oct. 15. When you pay $175,000 for each player, you want to be prepared. We don't expect to finish last in 1969."

Influential Names Join In Protest of Viet War

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—As a megaphone for antiwar sentiment among businessmen, a group with the unlikely name of Business Executives Move for Vietnam Peace expects to speak with a powerful voice during these pre-election months.

During this week, in fact, mailed solicitations were scheduled to be received by 100,000 businessmen around the country, seeking their help and money in the war on the war. Hopefully, said an officer, some big names will be signed.

The organization does have some well known personalities now, such as former Marine Corps Commandant David M. Shoup and Theodore Yntema, former Ford financial officer, but some corporate officers seemingly have been reluctant to lend their names.

For one thing, an officer in a large company is a hired hand. When he speaks and whatever he says reflects on his company. Therefore, he often remains silent, leaving protest to executives of smaller, privately owned firms.

Henry E. Niles, chairman of Baltimore Life Insurance Co. is an exception. Niles not only is one of the founders of BEM, as it is called, but is now cochairman with Harold Willens, Los Angeles land developer and industrialist.

"We started this thing in the summer of 1966," said Niles in an interview. "My wife went to see a senator to ask him to take a stand on the war, and instead he asked her: 'Where are the businessmen?'"

This upset Niles, who as a Quaker had many reservations about the war. "I wrote an open letter to the President protesting about the war on Dec. 28, 1966. We had 83 signers."

The second letter, published as a newspaper advertisement, signed by 170 individuals, was released in February 1967. Three months later another letter drew 300 signatures.

A formal organization was set up Aug. 10 after a meeting in the office of Charles Simpson, vice president of the United Gas Improvement and general manager of the Philadelphia Gas Works.

The first meeting was held Sept. 27 in Washington, during which Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., took a well publicized stand against the war. Last month more than 1,700 persons turned out to hear Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., address a BEM-sponsored meeting.

The group now claims between 1,600 and 2,000 members in chapters throughout the country. It distributes 100 copies of a film outlining its position. And it uses word of mouth advertising to influence other businessmen.

Niles, when asked what specifically unites them against the war, replied: "Some of us think it is utterly immoral. Others form a hardheaded business concept about it."

Niles was asked to describe the business reasons. He replied:

"Home starts are off, interest rates are up and there is a lag in research and development. We used to be a leader in machine tools; now you have to go outside the United States. It doesn't make sense."

"There is also the danger of inflation of prices and wages, and of a takeover of power by the federal branch. There is a danger of wider war."

BEM is not a peace group,

Niles says. "We do not say all wars are wrong. We say this war is wrong. Ours is a selective approach. We draw a distinction between peace groups and BEM."

BEM's goal is de-escalation and eventual disengagement from Vietnam, whether for moral, legal or economic reasons. At least some of the thinking is directed at what is considered a failing of policy.

"When you go into business you strive for objectives," Niles said. "You balance these objectives with your resources. The U.S. objectives are not clear. Why destroy a city to save it?"

Niles says BEM's attention is "directed to an obvious failure that must be corrected. In business, if the chairman and stockholders find the production men not doing the job, they make a change."

Although the group has been addressed by Sen. McCarthy, and McCarthy's people have borrowed BEM's film, Niles maintain that BEM is "not anti-Johnson as such."

"We hope he swings around. But if he doesn't we're opposed to him. We're backing a position, not a candidate."

Missouri City Gets Top Honor

NEW YORK (AP) — Cape Girardeau, Mo., was named an All-America city today for its efforts to meet the challenges of rapid growth.

The Missouri city was one of 11 announced as winners of All-America Cities Awards by the National Municipal League and Look Magazine, cosponsors of the annual contest for the nation's cities.

Honorable mention went to St. Louis and Jackson County.

The sponsors said purposeful action, not perfection, is the yardstick for picking the winners.

Cape Girardeau was confronted with industrial expansion and enrollment increases of 500 a year at Southeast Missouri State College.

"To insure orderly growth," the sponsors said, "citizens went to the polls and voted approval of an efficient council-manager government. New land was also annexed to handle the industrial expansion, and a new airport built. And to meet other growth problems, college students joined with townsmen to raise funds for a new playground and equipment, and the business community raised $1 million for a new 300 - bed hospital."

The other All-America Cities are Auburn, Maine; Fresno, Calif.; Grand Island, Neb.; Hickory, N.C.; Laurinburg, N.C.; Leavenworth, Wash.; Royal Oak, Mich.; South Bend, Ind.; Tupelo, Miss.; and Wheaton, Ill.

Youths Steal 'Bull'

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Four young men snatched a papier mache bull from a restaurant and drove off with the 4-by-8-foot display sticking out of the top of their open car. The youths, believed to be collegians visiting Fort Lauderdale beaches, took the bull from its stand in front of a steak house.

Bell Telephone At Junior High Assembly

A program presented by the Bell Telephone Company highlighted the Smith-Cotton Junior High School assembly on March 20, at 8:55 a.m. in the school auditorium.

Following the opening exercises, which were conducted by Jane Herrick, president of the Junior High Student Council, the Freshman Girls Glee Club presented a choral arrangement of "This is My Country" by Jacobs, after which the Eighth Grade Girls Glee Club sang a selection entitled "Hail to Our Country" by Keller. These musical groups were directed by Mrs. Mary Lou Waldrep and were accompanied by Beth Belt, freshman, at the piano.

Beginning the informative program was the presentation of Mr. Jack Spilken who introduced Mr. Roy Wickersham. Due to his affiliation with the Bell Telephone Company, Mr. Wickersham developed the topic, "the magic of communication."

Canadian Gold Coin Is Illegal in U.S.

OTTAWA (AP) — The Canadian $20 gold piece struck last year to mark Canada's 100th anniversary can't be legally shipped to or sold in the United States, the Royal Canadian Mint announced, because it is not classified as a numismatic item. A mint spokesman disclosed the ban after an Ottawa coin dealer reported the Canadian coins were being sold in Las Vegas for $140 to collectors.

The names of the Three Wise Men are not recorded in the Bible.

Benadaret Is Feeling Just Fine

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Yes, it's lovely on the desert today," said Bea Benadaret, speaking on the telephone from Palm Springs. "But then, every day is beautiful to me."

Miss Benadaret, star of television's long-running "Petticoat Junction" spoke with understandable feeling. She said doctors have told her that a tumor on her lung has been dissolved by radiation treatment.

The actress did not make any predictions for the future. "But I do know that I feel fine, better than I have felt in years," she said. "They tell me the spot on my lung has disappeared, and I believe them."

Long one of the busiest performers of radio and television, Miss Benadaret had lived with the threat of cancer for five years. During a routine check-up, a spot was discovered on her lung, then it disappeared. Her doctors remained vigilant, and she was X-rayed at least every three months. Meanwhile she cut down her usual quota of three-to-four packs of cigarettes a day.

"Three weeks before last Thanksgiving, I had another X-ray, and the spot had reappeared," she said. "The doctors told me to come back in two weeks for another look. The spot had grown."

Meanwhile she was in the midst of shooting the fifth season of "Petticoat Junction." She told none of the company of her ailment and resisted urgings by her doctor for immediate surgery; she was concerned that her absence would imperil the show. Finally her family prevailed upon her to undergo the operation. It took place Nov. 26.

Afterward, she related, the lung surgeon told her, "I found the tumor, but I have to tell you I could do nothing about it."

"Why?" she asked. "Because if I did, you would be an invalid for the rest of your life."

Treatment was recommended at Stanford University Hospital, where she was subjected to a linear accelerator, a super-voltage method of radiation.

"They warned me that there could be side effects as a result of the treatment," she said. "But that I might avoid them. Somehow I did. Oh, I was debilitated, of course, but I was never prone. I was able to walk during the entire six and a half weeks of treatments, five days a week."

"I went up there convinced that the treatments would work. Maybe I was stupid, or maybe I had simply developed a faith in the fantastic outpouring of prayer and expressions of hope that I received from so many people. The mail was stacked so high you wouldn't believe it. I think the outcome means either that God has chosen me to live or that there is great power in prayer."

Doctors recommended a desert recuperation, and she has been staying at Palm Springs with her husband, Eugene Twombly. She has been swimming, sunning, knitting, reading and—watching TV.

Independent Grocers Hold A Dinner

The Sedalia Independent Retail Grocers Association will have a dinner meeting Tuesday, March 26, at 7 p.m. at Flat Creek Inn.

The Department of Agricultural Economics of the College of Agriculture of the University of Missouri, Columbia, will present the program to the food dealers. University personnel have made numerous store studies representing different areas in the state. A summary of these results will be made available to the food industry.

The primary objective of these studies is to determine how to obtain the highest dollar sales from each operation. Four main areas were specifically analyzed:

1. Customer traffic: What was the shopping pattern; what caused it. The product exposure in each display. The type of customer shopping in each store.

2. Analysis of retail operations: store design and department location. Standards of performance, product location, space allocation, quantity control, type of equipment and work schedules.

3. Co-ordination of warehouse and retail relationship: efficient delivery schedules, material handling, quantity control and product movement.

The food dealers may attend the seminars and bring with them their employees, clerks, supervisors, butchers, check-out girls and salesmen. Reservation is necessary by contacting the Sedalia Grocers Association, TA 6-7430, not later than Monday, March 25.

Taystee Bread, Sedalia will be the host, with a Coke refreshment break by the Coca-Cola Bottling Co.

Club Notes

First Christain Church C. W. F. Tilbury Group met Monday night at the home of Mrs. Ray Sterling, California, with 13 members present.

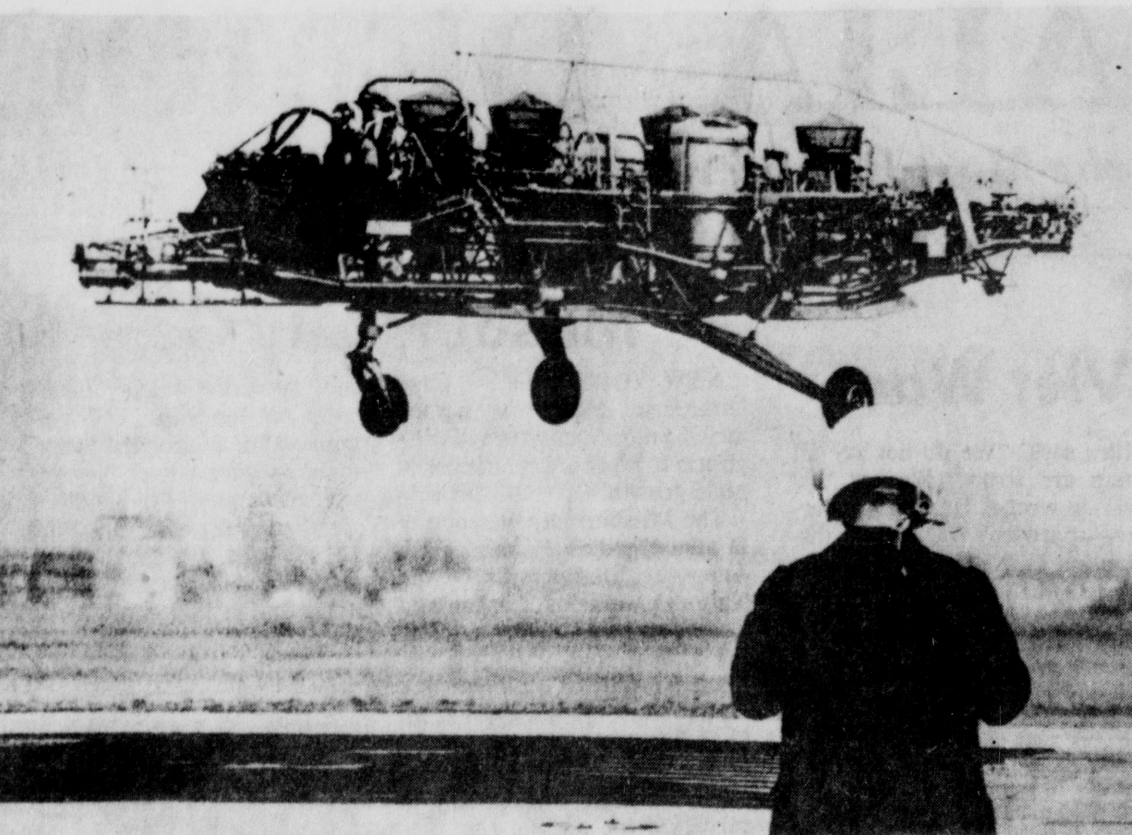

Mrs. Maxine Tilbury, group chairman, was in charge of the business meeting. Mrs. Rose Lehman, service chairman, discussed the love gift offering and Mrs. Velma Chambers, reading chairman, passed out books.

Mrs. Kenyon Latham gave the program, "Geta Zori and High Heel Pumps," a further study on Japan. She was assisted by Mrs. Bob Bryant, Mrs. Velma Chambers, Mrs. Lucille Baldwin and Miss Marion Flynt. Mrs. John Crane gave the worship service.

It was announced that a family night supper will be held April 3.

Houstonia Methodist Church M.W. Circle met at the home of Mrs. Earl Gregory with 16 members present.

Mrs. J. D. Gregory gave the devotional followed by the business meeting. Mrs. Earl Gregory reported and Mrs. Broadus Wiley continued the study book. A silent auction was held and the hostess served refreshments.

New MU Complex

The Major James S. Rollins group—two residence halls and a dining room—will be dedicated March 24 in ceremonies at the University of Missouri at Columbia. The central building, housing dining and lounging facilities, will be known as Rollins Hall. The residence hall at left, for men students, will be named for William W. Hudson, university president in 1856-59. The residence hall at right, for women students, will be named for Mary Louise Gillett of Hannibal, first woman graduate of UMC (in 1870).

By BARRY KRAMER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu said today South Vietnam's allies are increasing their military and economic commitment here to his country, and to share the sacrifice he has ordered 135,000 men be added to the South Vietnamese armed forces.

In a major policy speech, Thieu also itemized government plans to crack down on corruption, which he labeled "a shame for the whole nation and population." He announced the creation of new agencies for national planning and administrative reform.

"Our allies in the free world will give us more military and economic assistance," the president said. "But for our part, I think that we must make greater efforts and accept more sacrifices, because, as I have said many times, this is our country, the existence of our nation is at stake, and this is mainly a Vietnamese responsibility."

Thieu did not say what the increased allied aid would be. U.S. congressional sources in Washington say the White House plans to commit another 35,000 troops to Vietnam above the 525,000 now authorized. U.S. troop strength here at last official count was 509,000 men.

South Vietnam has already begun a partial mobilization to fill the expanded military quota. The program involves drafting 18- and 19-year-olds, recalling reservists and veterans and stopping discharges.

The increase would bring South Vietnam's men under arms to 909,000, including both regulars and militiamen. The regular army, navy and air force now total 340,000 men, and the bulk of the 125,000 extras will be assigned to these forces. The United States will equip the new troops.

Turning to corruption, Thieu said he has given strict orders to close permanently "dancing bars and disguised nightclubs which are harmful to our good moral traditions and deprave our youth. The outdoor markets for smuggled and stolen goods (the black market) are to be closed."

Wide Use Of Lunch Vouchers

By GODFREY ANDERSON
Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP) — It started as a bid to see that girl typists got a proper mid-day meal instead of splashing their money on lipsticks or stockings. Now it's big business and growing.

Luncheon vouchers — chits from employers which employees can cash in for a meal — were used by an estimated 300,000 white-collar workers last year. The firm that provided this service reported a turnover of $28.8 million.

The British luncheon voucher has become a fringe benefit which many will not work without. It's practically a currency.

Giant firms like the oil corporations, Ford, Cunard, Imperial Chemical Industries and the nationalized steel companies use it. So do insurance firms, the Atomic Energy Authority, even religious bodies and the diplomatic corps; even little firms with a mere half-dozen employees.

Anyone can have them — from the lowest paid clerk to the managing director. The only rule — imposed by the Internal Revenue Department — is that a tax-free concession applies only to one three-shilling or 36-cent voucher per person per working day, and that it must be spent on a meal.

There's nothing to stop any company from issuing more expensive vouchers up to 10 shillings — $1.20 — but only three shillings of the amount may be charged against taxes.

The three-shilling voucher, pays for little more than a sandwich and a glass of milk today. Many workers say the amount is no longer enough. They have to make up the difference from their own pockets.

The business is the brainchild of John R. Hack, a 42-year-old former accountant who is managing director of Luncheon Vouchers Ltd.

World War II workers were well fed in factory canteens. After the war they demanded something equivalent from civilian firms.

With difficulties in recruiting staff, many companies began offering luncheon subsidies. Soon nearly 9,000 firms were issuing vouchers in the form of printed, typed or handwritten chits or plastic discs — usually cashable at the nearest restaurant.

Hack got the idea of a central clearing house to issue a standard form of voucher and make refunds to restaurants on a nationwide basis.

His company was formed in 1955. The first year Hack had 500 customers. Then a consortium of nine of Britain's biggest catering firms took over and the thing snowballed when their restaurant chains were roped in.

Today more than 20,000 British and Irish business concerns give out luncheon vouchers. The original 4 per cent of voucher face value charged by Hack's company for the service has been cut to 1 1/4 per cent.

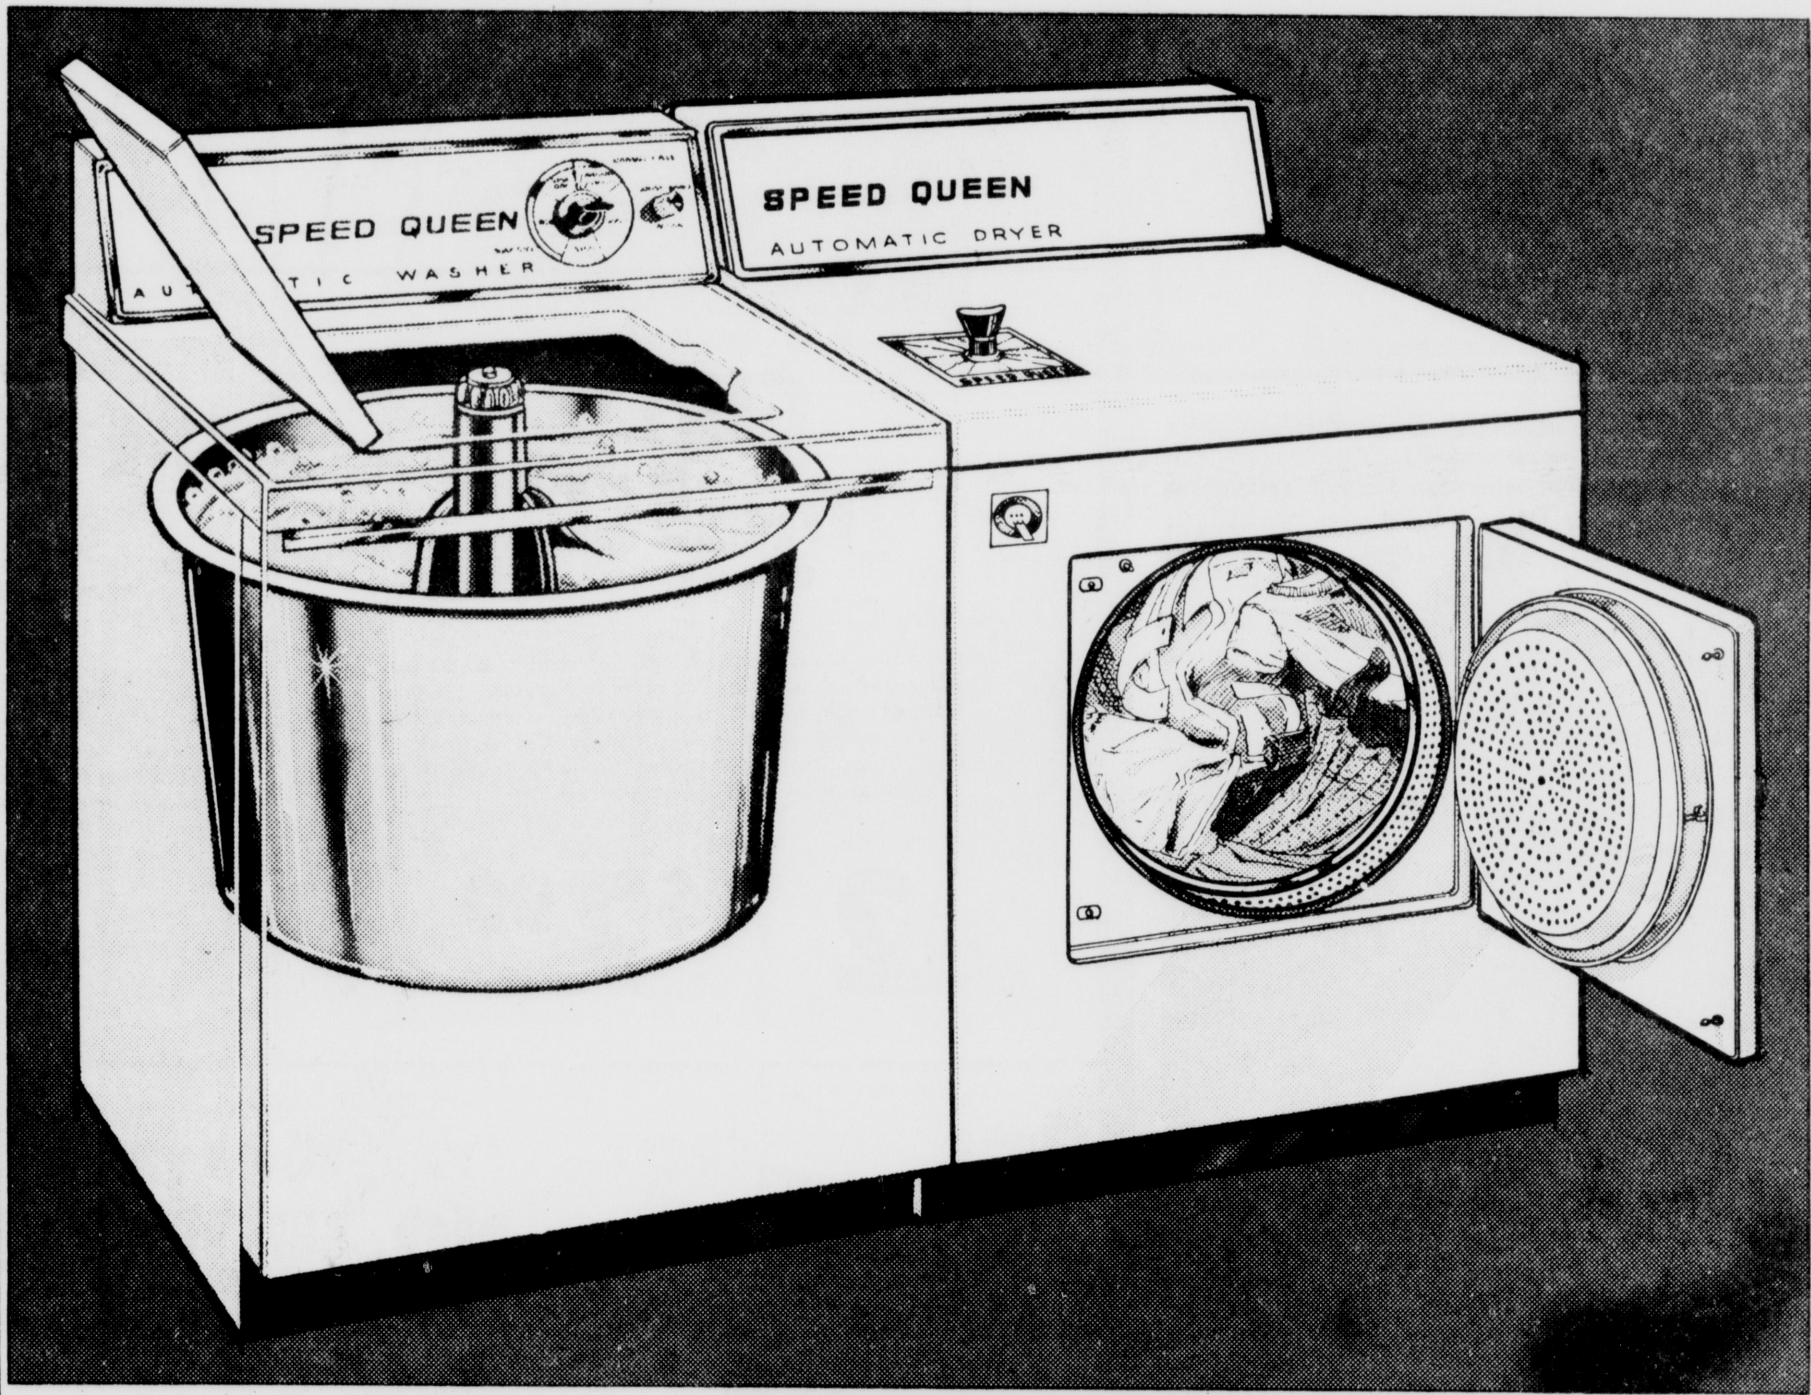

Bundles of vouchers, turned in by restaurants all over the British Isles, come into the headquarters of Luncheon Vouchers every day. The chits are checked by computer against forgery and redeemed with cash refunds within an average of three days.

Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I am eight months pregnant and unusually large. The doctor has told me I am not having twins, but it looks like triplets. The most important thing right now is comfort. My husband weighs 200 pounds and his old trousers fit me perfectly. I realize I do not look like a fashion plate but why would anyone expect me to?

Last week my husband made an uncomplimentary remark about my appearance and specifically mentioned that I look terrible in trousers. I told him they are the most comfortable things around and I am not trying to make the best-dressed list.

Last night he brought his boss home unexpectedly for dinner and there I was in my favorite outfit. He was noticeably upset and let me know he wasn't very happy with the way I looked. After the boss left he yelled in a loud voice about my sloppiness and I am sure the next-door neighbors heard every word. Will you comment please?—ZEPPELIN

Dear Zepp: A husband who brings his boss home unexpectedly (or anyone else for that matter) should not be critical of what he finds. This is a very inconsiderate move.

Pregnancy, however, is no excuse to look like a slob. The maternity house dresses and yes, even slacks (if you prefer trousers) are extremely attractive and mighty comfortable. Be good to yourself these last few weeks. When you look better, you'll feel better.

Dear Ann Landers: We go with a group (mostly professional people) who are social drinkers. One friend in particular, Veronica, does not drink. Whenever someone offers her a cocktail she says, "Thank you, no. I am an alcoholic and I can't touch a drop of liquor." An announcement of this type invariably produces a dropped jaw and a stunned expression.

I'm sure some people think she's nuts.

The other evening I took Veronica aside and told her it wasn't necessary to make a temperance speech, that a simple "No, thank you" would suffice.

She became indignant and declared it was her duty to educate people to the problem of alcoholism and that she intends to crusade to this end forever. Is she a nut?—JUANITA

Dear J.: She may be, but if she is, she's a nut with courage and I admire her for it. Perhaps she tried saying "No, thank you" and after being pestered by well-meaning but ignorant friends to have "just one" she decided to give them the whole load. I say, hooray for Veronica.

Dear Ann Landers: I have been engaged to Gerald for four and a half years. Whenever I make a date to see the pastor about wedding arrangement Gerald either forgets, has to leave town or he takes so many tranquilizers he falls asleep for two days.

He is a mama's boy and still sits on his mother's lap when she trims his eyebrows with a cuticle scissors. He gives his mama his paycheck and she gives him an allowance. Incidentally, Gerald is 31 years old. I am sure if I could drag him away from his mother he'd be a great husband. My question is this: How can I get him to marry me?—L.L.L.

Dear L.L.L.: My question is this: Why in the world do you want him?

Moberly Man Killed In Formosa Mishap

TAIPEI (AP) — Air Force Tech. Sgt. Douglas T. Riley, 34, of Moberly, Mo., was killed near Taichung in central Formosa Monday when his motor scooter collided with a bus, an Air Force spokesman said today.

Riley was assigned to communications squadron at the Ching Chuan Kung Air Base in Formosa.

The Air Force spokesman said Riley's death was accidental. He said Riley's widow lives in Moberly with their daughters, ages 8 and 9.

Will Urge Cut In Aid Requests

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield says he'll urge the Senate to cut President Johnson's $2.92 billion foreign-aid request "to bare bones."

But Mansfield, a critic of Vietnam war escalation, said in an interview he would oppose any effort to suspend the program for the duration of the Asian conflict.

"The trend in foreign aid is in the right direction — downward," he said. "I believe that it should be cut to bare bones this year. But I do not think it can be cut off entirely. That would only be too abrupt."

President Johnson's 1968-69 foreign-aid program includes $420 million in military aid. Last year Congress lopped $1 billion off the President's request, voting only $2.2 billion, lowest in the program's 20-year history.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, another Vietnam policy critic, has proposed suspension of all aid to help meet mounting war costs. There are clear indications of strong opposition to the aid authorization in both houses, but administration leaders feel they can salvage a reduced appropriation.

Mansfield said economic aid obviously must be continued in Vietnam, South Korea and friendly Southeast Asian countries. But he said even this must be reduced as a part of a general economy program.

As a part of such a program he said that two-thirds of the U.S. troops who make up the equivalent of six divisions in Europe should be brought home.

Mansfield said he had asked a high administration official—he declined the name—for a report on why the return of 35,000 European-based troops, announced last December, had been delayed.

Electronic Devices Are Revolutionizing Mining

By RALPH DIGHTON
AP Science Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Electronic devices that can "sniff out" invisible specks of precious metals in ordinary rocks are quietly revolutionizing the world's search for gold and silver.

In the past few years two major gold strikes and a silver deposit which reportedly could rival the Comstock lode have been found with space age techniques that enabled man to test the moon's soil without setting foot on it.

Government agencies and mining interests in the United States, the Soviet Union, Africa and Australia are systematically surveying broad areas for precious metals with these new tools.

The Russian effort reportedly is far greater than this country's, with a 10-year head start. Latest available reports indicate the Soviets are making more than seven million samplings a year compared with about 150,000 in the United States in 1967.

The electronic soil testers detect the presence of various kinds of metal by measuring the distinctive emissions each gives off when the rock is subjected to heat and other radiations.

Mobile laboratories—converted trailers—take the equipment to prospecting sites and make analyses on the spot.

A miniaturized soil-testing device using somewhat similar "radiation signature" techniques was carried to the moon by Surveyor spacecraft and determined the lunar surface was largely basaltic like that of the earth.

The gold "sniffers" are so precise they can find particles only a few microns in diameter, scattered as widely as four parts of gold per billion parts of rock. A micron is forty-millionths of an inch.

With today's giant trucks and power shovels, gold can be recovered profitably in open pit mines where the yield is as low as $2 a ton.

U.S. Geological Survey reports indicate two recent strikes in Nevada are averaging a third of an ounce of gold per ton. That seems a small amount, but at $35 an ounce the gold yield is well within the profit-making range.

Operators estimate one of the deposits, near Carlin, Nev., may contain more than $100 million in gold. If true, this alone would be twice the current annual U.S. production. The United States consumes $350 million worth a year for jewelry and industrial uses, leaving a $300 million deficit to be imported.

The California Division of Mines reports two new silver strikes near Barstow, each estimated to contain 25 million to 50 million tons of ore bearing one to four ounces of silver per ton. If the higher estimates turn out to be right, this would amount to 400 million ounces, compared with 250 million ounces extracted from the old Comstock lode near Virginia City, Nev.

Send Food to Hue

SAIGON (AP) — The Catholic Relief Services has announced it is sending 1.5-million pounds of U.S. government-donated food to Hue to feed more than 80,000 needy South Vietnamese. The agency is the overseas aid organization of U.S. Roman Catholics.

See No Threat In Red Fleet

By CARL HARTMAN
Associated Press Writer

BRUSSELS (AP) — High-ranking military officers of the North Atlantic Alliance see no need to do anything now about the Soviet naval buildup in the Mediterranean.

"Their strength is still far below the U.S. 6th Fleet," one officer said. "If it started to come close, we would have to build up too."

These officers consider the effect of the Soviet warships largely psychological, a way to boost the morale of the Arab countries which the Soviet Union backs against Israel.

They also point out that the comparatively untried Soviet fleet is also gaining operational experience in the special conditions of the Mediterranean—a long body of water, comparatively narrow at various points, with good sailing conditions all year round.

The allied officers are impressed with the feat of the Egyptians in sinking the Israeli destroyer Elath with a Soviet Styx missile. They note with concern that the Russians have delivered similar missiles to other Arab countries.

Another worry is that the Algerian government will allow the Soviet fleet to use the big modern naval base at Mers el Kebir, which France recently gave up.

The Soviets are already using Alexandria, in Egypt, and modern techniques of supplying ships at sea make naval bases less important than they once were. But Mers el Kebir could be valuable to the Soviets as a repair yard and leave center near the western entrance to the Mediterranean.

"Even the Soviets can't keep their men at sea indefinitely," one officer pointed out.

U.S. officials estimate that the Soviets now keep about 35 ships in the Mediterranean though at times there have been as many as 46. A year ago there were rarely more than a dozen.

No Radiation Damage Done To Animals

WASHINGTON (AP) — A panel of American and Danish scientists has confirmed earlier conclusions that human, animal and fish life was not endangered by the shattering of four hydrogen bombs on a frozen bay off Thule, Greenland.

The group of 21 scientists completed Tuesday two days of conferences to review the action taken to minimize any dangers resulting from the Jan. 22 crash of an American B52 bomber carrying the hydrogen weapons. They said they would continue to watch the situation.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The mother of one of eight American soldiers granted political asylum in Sweden said Tuesday her son "seems satisfied with his life there."

Dr. Frank X. Jones of St. Louis said her 20-year-old son William found a job in medical work. She said she has been exchanging letters with her son regularly, and has visited him.

Jones Will Seek GOP Nomination

KANSAS CITY (AP) — State Sen. Lem T. Jones Jr., a Kansas City attorney, announced today he will seek the Republican nomination as lieutenant governor.

Jones, 44, made his announcement at a news conference here and was to leave immediately after the announcement for a similar news conference in St. Louis.

Jones said "It is clearly evident that Democrat administrations at both the state and national level have failed to properly recognize and respond to the many urgent problems facing us today."

"It is apparent that the state government must recognize the critical needs facing our cities and rural communities and take effective steps to cope with the problems resulting from urban decay, rural transition and social unrest."

Jones also talked about taxes saying that "although taxes have nearly doubled in the last 10 years, little has been done to eliminate the many symptoms of stagnation in the development of our state."

He said "what Missouri vitally needs is leadership determined to tackle the problems on a comprehensive basis and provide a workable means for the state to assist local governments to meet their pressing needs at the local level."

Jones was elected to the Missouri Senate in November 1966. He has served on the Missouri Tax Study Commission and is a member of the State Technical Services Commission and the State Local Government Commission.

He is married, has a son David 15 and a daughter Marcia 11. He served in the Navy in World War II, is a Lieutenant-commander in the Naval Reserve and is a jet pilot.

Killed in Accident

BOWLING GREEN, Mo. (AP) — William W. Ross of Wentzville, Mo., was killed Tuesday night in a one-car accident just east of Bowling Green.

The highway patrol said the vehicle went out of control on a curve of U.S. 54, skidded more than 100 feet and flipped end-over-end for another 400 feet. The victim was hurled from the car.

The Merchants' Curse

Stealing goods on display in a store is called shoplifting. Another way of expressing it is, to buy a nickel's worth of chewing gum and steal a box of candy; or, in olden days, buy a dime's worth of tobacco and steal a sack of flour.

Some persons indulge in this activity for personal gain or need, others for kicks, and a lesser number because they are afflicted with an irresistible impulse to steal. The latter are called kleptomaniacs.

There are also organized groups skilled in the mechanics of shoplifting expensive and bulky items of merchandise such as clothing. They seem to ply their nefarious trade without as much detection as those who pilfer petty items.

Every merchant in Sedalia has suffered economic loss from the activities of these individuals. Moreover, they are required to maintain constant vigilance to deter the pilferers and also put up with the irritations that necessarily follow in bringing the violators to the courts for punishment.

Shoplifting is no minor affair in store business today. In fact, Life magazine recently revealed that one nationwide discount store chain was driven into bankruptcy by shoplifters.

—O—

But consider another aspect of store owners' problems. Theft by employees. Thirty per cent of all business failures are attributed to them, according to Fireman's Insurance Co. At least 25 million larcenies will be committed in the United States this year, says Paul D. Astor, president of an outfit that plants agents inside companies to detect employee pilferage.

This condition may be more general than the public is aware of. Why, even bartenders are now threatened with surveillance. Recently a new electronic device has been invented to keep tabs on these dispensers of the joy juice.

According to Science Service, this gadget fits on a special pouring spout and signals whenever the bottle is tilted. A receiver in the manager's office records the number of drinks poured. Not only that, but each price category of liquor is transmitted on a separate frequency, allowing automatic accounting.

But as usual for every action there is counteraction, and you can bet your boots some bartender is going to come up with a jamming device that can be worn in a ring.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Kennedy Heat Sears Party Bigwigs

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Bobby Kennedy is really pouring on the heat. Democratic leaders all over the United States are getting phone calls, and in some cases personal visits, either from Bobby himself, his brother-in-law Stephen Smith, or other members of the Kennedy high command.

Those contacted have ranged from Gov. Warren E. Hearnes of Missouri to Gov. Harold Hughes of Iowa to the local leaders of Brooklyn, Queens, Nassau, the Bronx, and Tammany Hall in Manhattan. It's in these areas of New York where the pressure is being applied most ruthlessly. It resembles the tactics of the John F. Kennedy campaign when he was hellbent to get the nomination from Hubert Humphrey, and his campaign manager, Bobby, stopped at nothing to secure it for him.

Stanley Steingut, Democratic leader of Brooklyn, hitherto a Johnson man, has been pressured to switch to Kennedy. Steingut is obsessed with an ambition to become speaker of the New York Assembly, and Bobby could block that ambition if Steingut doesn't switch. You can write it down that Steingut will switch.

Henry McDonough, leader of the Bronx and successor to Charles Buckley, also is being told to move over into the Kennedy camp, as is Frank Rossetti, head of Tammany Hall. Bobby was opposed to Rossetti's getting the Tammany job in the first place. Rossetti says he is torn over his loyalty to Johnson. However, the power of the Kennedy clan to punish or reward is considerable and Rossetti is wavering.

Moe Weinstein, leader of Queens, also has ambitions to be speaker of the New York Assembly, but is not so obsessed as Steingut. The Kennedys are trying to brainwash him but so far he hasn't yielded.

If Bobby does not get these heavily populated counties around New York City, where the big blocks of delegates are, he won't control the New York delegation, and he's really pouring on the heat.

For Kennedy are William Luddy of Westchester County and Joseph Crangle of Erie County, as well as Democratic State Chairman John Burns, who faces a move to unseat him as chairman inasmuch as his announcement for Kennedy ran directly counter to the official resolution of the Democratic State Committee for Johnson. Rep. Joe Resnick has just written Burns a letter telling him to choose between being Democratic chairman or heading Bobby's drive for President.

Last weekend Jack English, young Democratic leader of Nassau County, called his county aides together and told them they were to be for Kennedy

Looking Backward

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Mrs. T. H. Young, 1809 West Third St., is home from St. Louis where she visited her son, Keith, a patient in the Army hospital at Jefferson Barracks. He suffered an attack of pneumonia but is improved. He is in the U.S. Army Air Corps.

FORTY YEARS AGO

The Bank of Knob Noster was held up and robbed during the morning by four bandits who escaped with between $4,500 and $5,000 in cash. The car in which they escaped had been stolen from a Kansas City woman. During the robbery they drew guns on J. M. Kendrick, cashier, and F. M. Shepherd, assistant, and ordered them into the vault, although they did not lock it.

While "Pickles," a high school student play, was being presented in Smith-Cotton auditorium, thieves were active on the outside and stole motometers, wheels and tires from the vehicles of the following Sedalians: Frank Mehler, Roy Lierman, Herbert Seifert, and William Hanlon.

NINETY YEARS AGO

This morning about 1 o'clock the MORNING DEMOCRAT reporter was startled from his labors by a terrible crash and then a hurly-scurrying of feet over the sidewalk and glass was hurled. A large plate glass had been broken out of the front window of Mr. J. Arnold's clothing store. Officer Murphy came by and said he did the shooting when three drunken railroad men, two of whom work in the M.K. and T. yards, broke the glass through pure cussedness. They were part of the same gang who raised the row in Smith's Hall last night. Officer Murphy took them in tow after the glass was broken. It is high time these roughs were shown they can't run Sedalia.

or else. If they failed to back Kennedy, he said, he would look for new county lieutenants.

That's how tough the race for delegates is getting. Bobby Kennedy is determined to get there and he isn't stopping at anything.

—White House Mail—

Presidential mail has never been so vitriolic and vicious as that now being received by President Johnson. The tone is so threatening that the Secret Service no longer will permit him to announce his travel plans in advance.

Newsmen have complained about the President's sudden, unannounced departures and have accused him of being overly secret and arbitrary. They don't have time to pack their bags to accompany him.

The truth is that the Secret Service has insisted upon keeping the press and public in the dark for the President's protection.

This is going to be a serious handicap in battling the combined attack of Bobby Kennedy and Eugene McCarthy in the primary campaign. The usual reaction of voters is that if a candidate doesn't care enough about votes to come to the State and ask for them, he doesn't get them.

Voters forget the urgency of White House problems and don't understand the requirements of secrecy.

—Electric Power Lobby—

A sneak Senate bill to lessen jurisdiction of the Federal Power Commission over electric power companies is up for a vote in the Senate Commerce Committee.

Sponsored by Senators George Smathers and Spessard Holland, Florida Democrats, it is aimed at permitting the Florida Power Company to escape Power Commission regulation, but would open loopholes to permit about 20 other companies to do likewise.

The bill, innocuous on the surface, would remove companies in intrastate commerce from federal regulation. Within the public utility industry, this is heralded as a chance to set up smaller utilities operating inside states, with buffer companies operating on state borders which would handle interstate ties.

Sen. Warren Magnuson, D-Wash., a staunch champion of the consumer and chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, is opposed to the bill. But it will get the OK of most Republicans, together with Sen. Mike Monroney, D-Okl., former utility critic, but now facing a tough re-election race in Oklahoma.

Most interesting vote to watch will be that of Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., who has backed the big gas interests of Sun Oil and the Pew family in the past, but who this time faces a recommendation from his fellow Republican, Gov. Raymond P. Shafer, that Republican governors study consumer problems, including the overcharge to consumers in the public utility field.

Guest Editorial

PROVIDENCE JOURNAL: Don't Erase Postmarks. — We sympathize with the General Accounting Office in its attempt to cut down U.S. Post Office costs by eliminating city names from postmarks. We are all for reducing post office expenses, especially in view of the impending increase in the first class mail rate to six cents.

The Post Office Department wasn't very responsive in its arguments against the GAO proposal. A post office official made the enlightening comment that "we can see no purpose in eliminating the name of the post office from the postmark."

The GAO was thinking that eliminating the town name would break down opposition to eliminating small post offices. Maybe it would, although the Post Office Department doesn't think so. At any rate, we have frequently found it useful to have the town indicated. Otherwise, one would never be sure where a letter came from. Postmarks, town included, have often cleared up mysteries about misdirected mail. And if some of the towns have colorful or bizarre names, let's not yield all the eccentricities of geography to a system of numbers. We're sure it isn't postmarks that delay a letter's delivery three days in the same community where it was mailed.

Research in Needy Nations Best Aid U.S. Could Give

By RAY CROMLEY
NEA Washington Correspondent

LAHORE, PAKISTAN (NEA)

If Pakistan is any example, the most valuable foreign aid may consist of inexpensive research.

The striking lesson here is that very small amounts of imaginative, private technical assistance can be as great in over-all effect as hundreds of millions of dollars in direct gifts or loans.

Pakistan economists estimate that within the next few years this country will earn an additional $200 million a year, and thus save that much in scarce foreign exchange, through the use of new types of wheat and rice from Mexico and the Philippines.

The wheat, called Mexi-Pak, is a modification of a wheat developed by Rockefeller aid in Mexico.

The rice, called IRI-8, is a variety developed with Ford and Rockefeller funds in the Philippine Islands.

These new types produce from two to four times the crop per acre as traditional Pakistan wheat and rice.

Within a decade, these new varieties may enable Pakistan to be a major food exporter. If this proves out, economists estimate her foreign exchange savings, plus export earnings from these two food crops, may add up to $300 million to $400 million a year.

This is only the beginning. U.S. research has developed a high-yield maize (corn), now being modified to meet Pakistan requirements.

New research in Pakistan gives promise of multiplying the amount of jute per acre.

A tree grown in the Philippines and now being introduced into Pakistan promises to be a cheap source of pulp.

Relatively small amounts of technical aid have made possible the drilling of thousands of small wells in Pakistan. These produce water in dry areas and reduce the crop-ruining salt content of the soil in other regions.

There is a strong feeling among some men experienced in aid that countries the United States is helping would profit greatly if more of American aid were devoted to joint research projects in local universities, research laboratories and agricultural institutes.

The direct application of foreign technology to developing countries is often wasteful and unsound technically. More original local research is needed. More research is also required in the adaptation of foreign technical know-how to the local situation.

This is not to suggest that research and technical aid would be a complete substitute for other dollar assistance. The new Pakistan wheat and rice, for example, increase the need for fertilizer. Major areas of Pakistan require more water than can be supplied by wells alone. Countries short of foreign exchange frequently require loans to enable them to buy machinery and raw materials abroad.

But the purpose of this column is to suggest that more of our present aid could profitably be channeled into the development of local and joint research.

"Wonder Bids" is a derivative name given to various weak bids so popular among experts. We have nothing against them. In fact we use them sometimes but we don't go out of our way to do so.

In one table in a recent team match East chose to open with one of these wonder bids—a weak two spades. West jumped to four spades. He was sure that his opponents had a game and was sacrificing in advance.

North wasn't going to be shut out. His four no-trump call was for takeout. South jumped to six clubs and when North rescued to diamonds, South went to six hearts.

South ruffed the spade lead, returned to his hand with the ace of clubs and led a second heart. West was in with the ace and played a diamond. South won in dummy, ruffed a spade with the last trump in his hand, discarded dummy's last spade on the king of clubs, entered dummy with a diamond, picked up East's last trump and made his slam.

We won't say that South was in the best contract in history but it was a reasonable slam and he made it.

At the other table East decided that his hand was good enough to open one spade. It was, with 11 high card points and a good spade suit.

South was ready with a wonder bid. He bid three clubs—a weak jump overall. This weak jump overall shut West out of the bidding and it also had the effect of keeping North quiet. A vulnerable weak jump overall may not be too weak but it isn't likely to be one with support for some other suit and North held only one club.

Six clubs made also when the queen of clubs dropped, so the effect of the two wonder bids was to get South to a slam at one table and hold him to a part score at the other.

The World Almanac notes that Dilley, Tex., has a statue of a watermelon. Seattle similarly memorialized a cow with extraordinary milk-producing capacity; and Camden, Maine, has a monument to Henry Brewster with a tray of the doughnuts he is reputed to have invented. Statues have traditionally enshrined ideas and men that a society thought emblematic of its aspirations or accomplishments.

White House Test Proven a Failure

By EDMOND LeBRETON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House trial balloon of a $9 billion budget cut never soared very high in the estimation of congressional leaders demanding deeper reductions as the price of a tax increase.

And now it seems to have fallen flat. No specific reductions have been sent to Capitol Hill, formally or informally, and the indications are that none will be ready for some time.

Congressional economists are showing irritation. Some are suggesting that the $9 billion reduction talk last weekend by high administration sources was really intended more for the ears of the international monetary authorities meeting to stem the gold rush than for consideration by Congress.

A genuine fear that speculators against the dollar might win a great impetus last week to the lagging discussions between the executive and legislative branches of an economy-tax combination to reduce the prospective $20 billion deficit and bolster the U.S. international financial position. The momentum has slackened since then.

There was a point at which key congressmen were talking of an even steeper increase than the 10 per cent income tax surcharge Johnson is asking. Some suggested restoring the regular income-tax bracket rates, except in the lowest brackets, as they were before the massive 1964 tax reduction instead of merely adding a surcharge.

Such a rollback would yield an estimated $14 billion increase in revenues instead of the $10 billion plus which the surcharge is supposed to bring in.

But the asking price was a budget reduction in the range of $15 billion — meaning an actual spending cut of about $6 billion — instead of the $9 billion budget trim that would mean about $4 billion in actual spending.

There was no meeting of minds on an economy move of these dimensions.

It would require dropping, postponing indefinitely or at least drastically scaling down some whole domestic programs.

This is exactly the course some economists are advocating. They say the built-in expansion of these programs over the next five years or more will cost more than the present revenue structure can provide — even if the economy maintains a healthy growth.

As the dialogue between the executive and the legislative branches falters, conferences within Congress on the possibility of a legislatively dictated cutdown on domestic spending continue. These now cross party lines, bringing in Republican leaders as well as the economy-minded Democratic chairmen of the taxing and spending committees. If they agree, the administration may find itself fighting budget cuts it had no hand in preparing.

A development which has given the administration no comfort was a speech by Rep. Charles A. Vanik, D-Ohio, one of the five Ways and Means Committee members who tried in vain to keep the surcharge proposal alive last September when the committee shelved it.

But Vanik told the House Wednesday he cannot support a tax increase to escalate the Vietnam war, nor approve further cutbacks in programs to cope with urban crises.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Daily Use of Laxatives Is Harmful, Not Helpful

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Readers who are or who believe they are constipated and who are dosing themselves with various laxatives secretly suspect that they are doing themselves no good. Many of them write to me asking about the harmful effects of this or that laxative. The greatest danger with all such drugs is irritation of the delicate lining of the intestines and setting up a chronic colitis.

The laxative habit thrives on the twin misconceptions that if you go for more than 24 hours without a stool you are constipated and that if you are constipated you are in big trouble. Most people, after taking a laxative, over-empty the bowel and are physiologically entitled to miss a day. If they take a laxative under such circumstances, they again over-empty the bowel and the result can best be described not as constipation, but as a cathartic diarrhea.

To the reader who inquired about the daily use of castor oil, I can only say that this harsh purgative is one of the most irritating. I would not recommend it for a sick dog and I doubt that any doctor would recommend its daily use. Milk of magnesia, senna, and Senokot (a senna preparation) are not as irritating as castor oil but, if they are taken daily, the end result will be the same.

Other readers have inquired about bran bread and bran cereals. I would rigidly avoid all such product if they contain the coarse identifiable flakes of pure bran because bran in this form is also a bowel irritant. The use of products made with fine ground bran flour is less hazardous but, as is the case with vegetables and fruit (the natural laxatives), the amount of bran eaten must be carefully adjusted to allow the stools to be firm and well-formed.

Some readers show a preference for enema. These, too, should not be used routinely and when used should not contain more than eight ounces of plain warm water. Larger enemas tend to over-irritate the bowel, and soap or other additives are irritating and unnecessary. The secret of success is the use of a small, plain water enema is to hold it at least five minutes before passing it. Don't take an enema unless you have gone 48 hours without bowel movement (72 hours if the last stool was loose or watery).

Taxpayers Ask IRS

Q — Can you exclude more than $100 in dividends from taxes if you file a joint return?

A — On joint returns, each taxpayer may exclude up to $100 in dividends received on stock he and she owns either jointly or individually. Therefore a maximum of $200 may be excluded in these circumstances.

If all the dividends are received entirely by either the husband or wife, then the dividend exclusion is $100 even on a joint return.

Q — Are the dividends on GI life insurance taxable?

A — No, they are not. Dividends on other insurance policies are not taxable either when they represent a return of premiums paid.

Families of Defectors Are Shocked, Some Agree

NEW YORK (AP) — Families of some of the eight American servicemen granted asylum in Sweden Tuesday have voiced reactions ranging from shock to qualified approval at the defections.

The Aliens Commission in Stockholm announced Tuesday that the eight have been given asylum "on humanitarian grounds." One of the defectors however, has already turned himself in at Ft. Benning, Ga., the U.S. Army said.

An Army spokesman said Erwin Joseph Foster, 26, a former Alabama newsman, turned himself in Sunday night and was "trying to act like a soldier." They said Foster did not wish to talk with newsmen.

Mrs. Richard T. Burroughs, mother of Robert T. Burroughs, 20, said in Arlington, Va., that she and her husband were shocked when they first learned of their son's defection and went to see him in Sweden.

"Frankly, we went to try to persuade him to come back," she said. "We tried to explain to him what his life was going to be like, but we didn't gain much. He said 'no' he wasn't going to come back home."

She said they had no prior indication that such action was on the youth's mind. She said Robert's older brother completed his hitch in the military.

J. Edward Ashley, father of John Ashley, 21, of Alexandria, Va., described his son as "one of these lads that is very much against what is going on."

Ashley, a veteran of World War II and now a top civilian specialist in the Pentagon, said, "I respect his opinion because he's a man now, over 21. I wouldn't have done it that way, but then we're different people."

Young Ashley, faced with being drafted, enlisted in the Army last May. He disliked the service almost from the moment he began basic training and went AWOL last October to take part in the Pentagon peace demonstration.

In January, before leaving for Sweden, he told a Washington Post reporter: "That was the final thing that made me know I couldn't fight the war, after watching the government's brutality against its own people."

He said when he returned to his base he found orders to Vietnam. He took an overdose of sleeping pills at Ft. Benjamin Harrison in Indianapolis, Ind.

"When they asked me why I did it, I said, 'I'm sick of living, sick of the Army.' The psychiatrist said, 'That's a normal reaction,' and put me back on duty," he said in the interview.

Mrs. Frank X. Jones, mother of another of the defectors, William Jones, 20, said in St. Louis, Mo., that she was not surprised he received asylum.

"He expected it," she said. "He seems satisfied with his life there, and has found a job in medical work."

Young Jones, whose father is a retired real estate man, attended Maryknoll Seminary in St. Louis, Loyola of Chicago and St. Benedict's College at Atchison, Kan., before entering the military service.

In Ranks

Airman Frances M. Bryant, daughter of Mrs. Geraldine L. Bryant of 1009 South Lamine, has completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex. She has been assigned to the Air Force Technical Training Center at Sheppard AFB, Tex., for specialized schooling as a medical services specialist. Airman Bryant is a 1966 graduate of Smithton High School. Her father, Earl L. Bryant, resides on Route 2, Sedalia.

Davis Says SEATO Not Doing Job

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The nations of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization aren't pulling their weight in the Vietnamese war, W. True Davis Jr.

told the Downtown Democratic Club in St. Louis Tuesday.

A Democratic candidate for senator from Missouri, said, "if the South Vietnamese and SEATO nations won't fight to defend their own country, then we have no business being there." But he added the U.S. has to fulfill its obligations to

South Vietnam and withdraw "only with honor."

The St. Joseph, Mo., businessman said he went along with Missouri Democratic Senator

Stuart Symington's suggestion that the U.S. halt all hostilities in Vietnam to see if the North Vietnamese are ready to negotiate.
